Supplies For Flood Victims

The volunteer boat "Iris" from Keesler Field unloads Red Cross supplies at Bay St. Louis, Miss., for distribution to hundreds of needy. The victims were made homeless by the raging hurricane that swept across the area. High tides added to the woes. An estimated 70 persons are dead along the Gulf Coast as new hurricane warnings are being displayed in the Caribbean. "Shoot to kill" looters orders have been posted at Bay St. Louis. Passes are required to leave homes at night.

Europe Asks U. S. 19 Billion Aid Fund

PARIS, Sept. 22 (AP)—Western Europe pledged itself to a program of self-help today and asked the United States to send it $19,330,000,000 under a four-year Marshall plan as a means of averting economic catastrophe. This program, the participating 16 nations declared, could enable Europe "to make her full contribution to the welfare of the world."

Marshall, Truman in Crisis Talk

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (INS)—State Sec. Marshall was summoned to the White House today to make a direct report to President Truman on the European food and economic crisis.

Marshall was due to confer with the chief executive soon after the special meeting of the cabinet food committee, which began at 10:15 a. m. (EDT) in the office of Agriculture Secretary Anderson.

Present at the food session were, besides Marshall and Anderson, Army Secretary Royall and State Undersecretary Lovett.

The European emergency and the record cost of living at home were discussed by the cabinet members, who were to confer later with Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman and possibly Mr. Truman.

Marshall is expected to urge the President to call a special session of Congress on or before Nov. 1 to provide urgently needed American food and other aid for Europe.

Marshall, who made a special trip from the United Nations General Assembly to report to the President on Europe and to attend the food-price meeting, is expected to return to New York tonight.

REWARD FOR INFORMERS

SHANGHAI, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Woonung garrison command, saying it had been ordered by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek to weed out corruption among local officials, offered rewards and promotions to low-ranking civil employees who would inform on their superiors.

The request was made in a 20,000-word document which will be dispatched to Washington after its signing here today by representatives of the 16 nations which mapped their economic wants in Russian-boycotted conferences held here for 70 days.

Only a 1500-word summary was made public today, the text is scheduled for publication next weekend.

SELF-HELP PROGRAM

The report outlined a four-point self-help program "aimed at putting Europe on its feet by the end of 1951":

- 1—A strong production effort by each country.
 - 2—The creation of internal financial stability.
 - 3—Maximum cooperation among the 16 countries.
 - 4—A solution of their trading deficit with the American continent, particularly by exports.
- As part of the production effort, the conference envisaged:
- 1—Grain production on a pre-war basis, with increases above the pre-war standard in potatoes, sugar, oils and fats.
 - 2—Coal production above the 1938 level and one-third higher than 1947 tonnage.
 - 3—Electrical generation at 166 per cent, oil refining at 250 per cent and steel at 120 per cent in terms of 1938 production.
 - 4—Inland transport facilities to carry one-fourth more than in 1938.
 - 5—Restoration of pre-war merchant fleets by 1951.

22 BILLION TOTAL

The 16 nations expressed belief Europe could produce most of the machinery and other capital equipment needed for the expansion program outlined, and added:

"The various countries have undertaken to use all their efforts to develop their national production in order to achieve these targets."

The report set at $22,400,000,000 western Europe's prospective dollar deficit for 1948-51. From this it subtracted $3,110,000,000 for machinery and capital equipment needs which, the report assumed, would be financed by the International Bank for reconstruction and development.

New Storm Warnings Fly On Battered Florida Coast

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22 (AP)—Storm warnings flew in a steady breeze on southern Florida's weary coast again early today as a second tropical disturbance stood just 90 miles southwest of the Keys, bearing 50-mile winds on a northward course.

The warnings went up from the Florida Keys to Palm Beach even as the battered peninsula and the ravaged gulf coast from Biloxi, Miss., to New Orleans counted 38 dead and anxiously contemplated flood waters left by last week's havoc-wreaking hurricane.

At 5:45 a. m. today, the Miami weather bureau reported the new disturbance moving at 20 miles per hour on a course between northwest and north. Hopefully, the bureau added that "Not much change in direction or velocity is indicated for the next 12 hours."

Though yet to be classified as a full-blown hurricane, this new storm began showing one of the symptoms. About noon yesterday it developed a rotary motion.

47-MILE WINDS

As the second blow set a course, winds clocked at 47 miles per hour whistled through the streets of Miami, still groggy from the punches of the hurricane.

Meantime, New Orleans and southern Florida were plagued by the after effects of the hurricane which beat a path across the southern part of the peninsula Wednesday, spun out into the Gulf of Mexico Thursday and then headed north to pound the Gulf coast on Friday.

The biggest menace in both cases was floods. Some 40 square miles around New Orleans was under water from Lake Pontchartrain and small boats maintained a steady shuttle service in the inundated area carrying marooned families to safety.

AID 2000 FAMILIES

So far some 2000 families have been ferried to dry ground. Waters in some places were eight to nine feet deep.

These same flood waters also carried the bodies of at least six persons. The Coast Guard brought in three from a swampy area around Lake Pontchartrain and hauled out two more victims, an aged blind woman and an unidentified man, near a fishing camp.

A couple and their 5-year-old daughter are still missing in this area and at Lake Catherine, a man and his wife have not been seen since the hurricane struck.

Sheriff Frank J. Clancy said sewerage contamination also was adding to the miseries of those in the flooded area.

On the outskirts of the Everglades in southern Florida troubles were being heaped on troubles for weary residents. At Canal Point men worked by whatever light was available, or none at all, to bolster dikes around Lake Okechobee.

The lake, already full from abnormal summer rains, was rising on the strength of the torrential rains which hurtled down with stinging force from the hurricane.

TOWNS IN PERIL

The highway patrol reported from the area that if the dike broke, Canal Point and several nearby towns would be under four to five feet of water.

Florida already has counted its storm damage at $30,000,000—so far. No comparable estimate has yet been made for the Gulf coast area though virtually every house along the beach and most business places from Biloxi to New Orleans have been damaged to some extent.

In New Orleans alone, Mayor De Lesseps Morrison has counted the loss at $7,000,000, and with the floods in some sections of this city the overall estimate undoubtedly will climb.

Transportation through the stricken area still is a hazardous matter. Most highways are closed, though one or two still are open.

Looting in all areas was reported under control. In Mississippi alone, some 400 National Guardsmen were patrolling beaches and business establishments.

Doyle Plans Prison Visit to Probe Break

Warden Francis J. W. Lanagan of State Prison was to submit his report on the three-man escape of last week to Corrections Commr. J. Paul Doyle at a conference in the prison this afternoon. Doyle had been due to go to the prison this morning but had to postpone the visit because of a hospital trip in connection with the illness of his elderly mother. The commissioner disclosed he had received no request for a hearing from the guard who "was discharged for negligence in the prison break, Charles A. Baldwin, Jr., 26, of L st., South Boston, former Air Forces navigator and holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross.

"Baldwin has no legal right to a hearing, inasmuch as he has no civil service status," Doyle said, "but I feel I have a moral obligation to give him one if he requests it. I don't like to see anyone fired without a hearing and I will be glad to listen to his story if he asks for an opportunity to present it."

HAYES STILL AT LARGE

Daniel J. McDevitt, deputy commissioner of correction, said he personally was in favor of reinstating Baldwin, a decorated Army flier during the Pacific war who had been on the prison job only three weeks.

Still at large, and the object of a police search covering the nation, is George Hayes, 30, of Main st., Waltham, a gunman. Captured within an hour of the break and facing escape charges in Charlestown court today were George Baker, 25, a burglar, and his brother, Earl, 37, doing life for a murder in 1930.

Baldwin has contended prison officials were tipped off several hours in advance of the impending break but he did not have the extra time to concentrate on the cells occupied by the trio.

ABSENTEE GUARDS

He said he was patrolling the area alone, and was not allowed to open the cell doors to determine whether the men were asleep in their bunks or the forms were clothing dummies, which proved to be the case.

McDevitt disclosed new guards assigned to State Prison have difficulty becoming accustomed to the grim routine, and six recent appointees have resigned in the past month.

"It is difficult to get new men hardened to the work," he explained.

One new guard turned in his uniform after only four days on the job.

McDevitt denied there was a high rate of absenteeism among the prison guards, and said the three guards reporting sick the morning of the break were all legitimately ill.

QUITZ GIRL FRIEND

Meanwhile, Sgt. John V. Miller of the Charlestown police said that in seeking Hayes detectives have questioned a Somerville girl who was friendly with Hayes and wrote to him at the prison.

The girl, whose identity was withheld, told the police, according to Miller, she met Hayes through the Baker brothers, his fellow escapees, when they were living in Mountfort st., Back Bay, some years ago.

Her story furnished evidence that the three men were friends long before they began serving jail sentences.

Cool, Clear Air Brings Hint of Frost

Cold air masses from Canada were moving into Massachusetts today, with Boston scheduled to experience a decided drop in temperatures this afternoon, followed by clearing and possibly frost in the northern suburbs.

Indications of damaging frost by tomorrow night were so strong the weather bureau said it might issue a warning bulletin to farmers later today.

The cold air invasion hit Pittsfield and other communities in the western part of the State before noon, the mercury dipping from the 70's to the 60's.

High winds, which in some sections reached gale force of 40 miles and hour, preceded rains this morning. Total rainfall thus far in the month was 3.39 inches, a little more than an inch above normal.

Vermont Divorcee Dies, Ex-Mate Held

RUTLAND, Vt., Sept. 22 (AP)—Attractive Stella Roberts, 28-year-old divorcee, died today of a bullet wound in the head as her former husband, George J. O'Connell, 34, awaited arraignment on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

The young woman was shot down Saturday night as she stood behind her counter in a local department store.

Several customers held O'Connell until police arrived. He had been talking with his former wife just before the shooting.

Ex-Atty. Gen. Cummings Reported Dying Well

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Former Atty. Gen. Homer S. Cummings, 77, was reported to be "doing quite nicely" at Doctors Hospital today following an operation.

MOTHER HIDES HER HEARTBREAK—Smiling bravely, Mrs. Roland Herbert, of Cleveland, O., feeds her son, Tommy, not yet two years old, from a bottle in a Cleveland hospital. Impostor Sought In Gold Star Theft Aroused Roxbury neighbors joined police today in an all-out search for a thief who victimized a couple of $50 by preying on their grief over a son killed in the war.

Authorities broadcast a widespread appeal to police throughout New England to pick up the uniformed impostor and prevent recurrence of this fraud worked on Gold Star mothers, first of its kind reported here following World War II.

Victims were Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bouchard of Juniper ter., Roxbury, who entertained the impostor in their home for five days while he tried to collect funds for the return of their son's body to this country.

The Bouchard boy, Charles, Jr., was killed in action in Germany in April, 1945, and buried in Holland. The couple, anxious to have his body brought home, purchased a lot in Forest Hills cemetery.

POSED AS SERGEANT

Last Wednesday, Bouchard met a man dressed as an Army staff sergeant and wearing on his chest campaign ribbons with battle stars.

When he told the father that he had been sent here to arrange with the family for the return of the son's body, on orders issued him by the War Dept., the father invited him to be a guest in his home.

There, he recounted to the parents that he had served with their son and he told just how the boy met his death.

The parents were told the boy would arrive by liner from New York within a week or two, and they must raise the money to pay for its shipment from Belgium. He mentioned the sum needed.

Bouchard, unaware that the government pays for transfer of war dead to their homes, went out to collect money for this bill and to finance the trip to New York.

FLEES WITH CASH

Mrs. Bouchard was packing bags for the trip to New York and their uniformed friend was left alone in the kitchen, where her purse, with $50, was lying.

When she came out to the kitchen she discovered he had slipped out of the house with her $50. She ran into the street but found no trace of him.

He was described as 37 years old, five feet six, weighing 190 pounds, with blue eyes and blond hair.

Cape Fund to Aid Defense of Cottle Reaches $3000

BARNSTABLE, Sept. 22.—The public defense fund for Girard G. Cottle, 30, West Yarmouth plumber, charged with the bludgeoning of his wife, Priscilla, 29, reached $3000 today as checks continued to pour in from all over the Cape area and from points as far north as Quincy and as far west as Worcester.

Atty. Eben G. Townes, retained as counsel for Cottle, is expected to confer with the young plumber today in preparation for a hearing in district court here Friday. The case will be given to the grand jury Oct. 14.

Maintaining the same calm he displayed when he was first arraigned, Cottle attended services in the county jail chapel yesterday. He was visited by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cottle, Boston; Frank W. Roderick, Hyannis, brother of the slain woman, and John D. Cannon, West Yarmouth plumbing contractor and Cottle's employer.

FUND SPONTANEOUS

Roderick and his sister, Mrs. Mary Santos, Hyannis, were among the first to rally to Cottle's side after he allegedly confessed the murder to police.

Less than 24 hours after Cottle was arraigned, unsolicited contributions from all over the Cape began to come into West Yarmouth jail. It was only after the public's sentiment in favor of Cottle became obvious that Roderick, Cannon and the Mayflower Hotel, Hyannis, placed an advertisement in local newspapers, appealing for funds in the young plumber's defense.

IMMEDIATE RESPONSE

The response was immediate and came from the rich and the poor alike—from prominent society matrons, a hotel manager, small shopkeepers and Cottle's own fellow employees who pledged $100. All expressed the feeling that Cottle deserved help and "another chance."

Police said Cottle bludgeoned his wife with a rock and an iron pinch bar about 1 a. m. a week ago Sunday a few moments after she had stepped from a car driven by Kenneth Perry, 32, West Yarmouth odd-job man and father of two children. Perry is now out on $8000 bail as a material witness.

Cottle's three children are with sympathetic relatives. The eldest, Sandra, 8, is with Roderick; Beverly, 4, has been taken in by Cottle's parents, and Kenneth, 2, is being cared for by Mrs. Santos.

Huge Cathedral Too Small For LaGuardia Mourners

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (INS).—The world's largest city held an official day of mourning today for former Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, champion of the "plain people," who died Saturday.

The huge Protestant Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine is too small to hold the mourners who would like to attend the funeral services this afternoon. But 50,000 of New York's millions filed past "The Little Flowers" bier yesterday as he lay in state.

All day Sunday the city's radio stations broadcast tributes and dramatized stories of the life of the son of an Italian bandmaster who rose to head a liberal-reform city administration for three terms.

Dignitaries from all over the nation will join LaGuardia's immediate family and friends at the cathedral this afternoon to pay final tribute.

U. S. Plant Bars Red Trainees After Protest

BUCHANAN, Mich., Sept. 22 (INS).—The Clark Equipment Co. dropped plans today to train Russians in American production methods at its Buchanan plant, in the face of a strike threat.

George Statta, company president, said seven Russian inspectors and engineers, due to arrive today, will be told they cannot operate special machines, but instead will be allowed to watch production.

His announcement followed by a few hours a statement by Reginald Boyle, president of Local 468, UAW-CIO. Boyle said 800 Clark workers approved a strike vote Thursday at a mass meeting bitterly protesting the training program.

The workers adopted a resolution condemning the company's plan and sent copies to President Truman, the U. S. State Department and Michigan Senators Vandenberg and Ferguson, both Republicans.

The statement declared: "We are unalterably opposed to training citizens of a foreign power which might conceivably be at war with us in the near future."

Boyle said the seven Russians would displace American workers, while learning to apply U. S. methods to Soviet production. The Clark plant makes axle housings. Its contract with the Russian government was made in 1946, with U. S. State Department approval.

British Rally To Aid of U. S. In UN Conflict

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP).—Strong British support for the U. S. in the widening U. S.-Russian conflict in the UN Assembly was expected today from Hector McNeil, British minister of state.

BRITISH PENICILLIN

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP).—The Ministry of Supply today ordered a 25 per cent reduction in the export of penicillin in order to satisfy a growing domestic demand. Forty per cent of Britain's production had been devoted to export.

An informed source said McNeil, last of the Big Five delegates to speak to the Assembly, was ready with an hour-long answer to Russia's charges.

The US held a decisive edge over Russia in three important developments over the weekend. They were:

1.—The powerful 14-nation steering committee of the Assembly voted 12 to 2 to recommend the assembly consider State Sec. Marshall's proposal for a "Little Assembly" year-round committee of the 55 member states. Russia opposed this strongly, but only Poland voted with the Soviet against this recommendation.

2.—The steering committee also decided to recommend that the assembly discuss Marshall's proposal for a full debate on the independence of Korea. The vote again was 12 to 2, with Russia and Poland in the minority.

3.—Warren R. Austin, No. 2 member of the U. S. delegation, hurled libel and falsification charges at Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, who blasted the whole range of American policies in a speech to the assembly last week.

In sharp contrast to Russian opposition to, almost every item the U. S. has proposed for the General Assembly, the U. S. offered no objection to a Russian resolution tossed in by Vishinsky at the end of his broadside calling on the assembly to condemn "criminal propaganda for a new war."

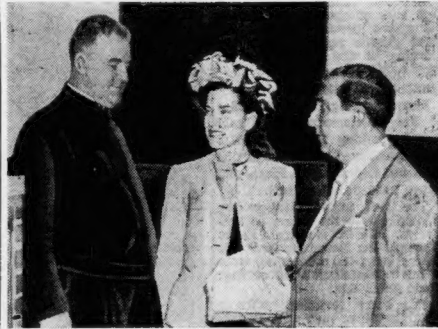

No one spoke on the resolution except Austin, who said briefly the U. S. did not object to its inclusion in the agenda.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie, optimistic at the speed attained by the steering committee at an extraordinary meeting at Lake Success yesterday, said he hoped the important committee work of the Assembly could begin Wednesday. The UN is holding to its hope that the Assembly can adjourn in mid-November.

DeBartolo Vows Innocence, Waits Pardon Plea Verdict

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, MON., SEPT. 22, 1947

Brought back from Italy to the Army disciplinary barracks at Greenhaven, N. Y., Pvt. Michael A. D. Bartolo, 24, of Dorchester has had a tearful reunion with his parents, at which he protested his innocence of the desertion charge which brought a life sentence, later reduced to 10 years.

News that the youth had been returned to this country came today, following the visit to the Greenhaven jail of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeBartolo of Standard st., Dorchester. It was the first time they had seen their son in four years.

Meanwhile, an Army board of review has under consideration a petition in which complete exoneration for the youth is sought. The petition was presented to the board last August. An official decision is expected shortly.

Given up for dead and reported missing in action after disappearing from his unit early in 1944, DeBartolo turned up in Rome on Armistice Day, 1946, dressed as a civilian and inquiring about the battle of Cassino.

He later claimed amnesia had fogged his memory as to where he had been or what he had done during the more than two years of absence.

He went to trial before an Army court-martial, was found guilty of desertion and sentenced to life imprisonment, a sentence which was reduced to 10 years at hard labor after a combined protest from relatives, friends and veteran organizations.

A veteran of the 34th Division of the Fifth Army, he was wounded in the Italian campaign, for which he was awarded the Purple Heart.

Returning early today from their visit to the Army barracks, his parents said the youth insisted he was wrongly convicted of the desertion charge.

"Mom, I'm not guilty," the young soldier was quoted as saying, his voice hoarse with emotion as his weeping mother clasped him in her arms. "I don't know what happened, but I'm not guilty."

"Thank God, I have seen my boy," Mrs. DeBartolo exclaimed on her return to Boston. "He showed me his wounds. He flinched trouble using his left arm, but otherwise he is well. I know he is innocent. I have prayed for this reunion, and my prayers have been answered."

"Michael said to me: 'Thank heaven, I am back in God's country.' He said the Army here was treating him fine, but that the treatment in Italy was not so good. I thought I had lost my son, but today I have found him again. I hope President Truman can take my son into consideration as he would a son of his own."

Six Injured In Everett, Lynn Crashes

Six persons were injured early today in two separate motor vehicle accidents in Lynn and Everett, including two Lynn youths who were not expected to recover.

The two critical victims are Stanley J. Pazik, 23, and Raymond Rosetti, 24, both of Charles st., Lynn, who were caught in the cab of a tractor in Broad st., Lynn, when it suddenly swerved, struck an electric light pole and rolled over four times before stopping in the middle of the street.

Taken from the wrecked machine to Lynn Hospital, Pazik was found to have suffered a punctured stomach and severe internal injuries, also a fractured left wrist. He has been administered four blood transfusions.

Rosetti suffered a fractured skull and jaw and possible internal injuries.

Police said that when the tractor struck the light pole and brought it crashing to the ground, the steel hood of the cab was driven through the cab floor, a piece of the steel piercing Pazik's stomach.

The two youths had delivered a trailer truck of goods from Houlton, Me., at the Lynn freight yards and were returning the tractor to its Lynn garage.

In the Everett crash of two cars, three men and a girl were injured.

The two cars were in collision at Estes and Lynn sts. In one of the cars were Joseph A. Fortoni, 23, of Avon st., Malden, and with him was Miss Tena Maltuchi, 18, of Buckman st., Everett.

Both were taken to Whidden Memorial Hospital, where Fortoni was held for treatment of a crushed chest. He was to be X-rayed for possible internal injuries. The Maltuchi girl was discharged after treatment of cuts and bruises.

Occupants of the other car were Lawrence LaBlanc, 26, of Henry st., Malden, and Ernest Cockett, 27, of Oak st., Everett.

New Battle Near In Overell Trial

SANTA ANA, Cal., Sept. 22 (INS).—Heated legal jockeying was in prospect today as the Overell yacht murder trial resumed after the weekend recess.

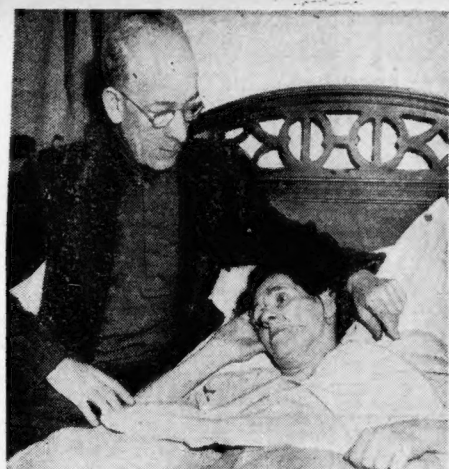

In immediate prospect was renewal of the battle over a stained piece of canvas which the prosecution tried to place in evidence.

The state contended the section of cloth was needed to bear out its claim that Financier Walter E. Overell was lying dead in the forward cabin of his yacht when the boat was blown up.

The defense objected to the canvas and was sustained by Superior Judge Kenneth E. Morrison, who ruled that Special Prosecutor Eugene D. Williams would have to lay a basis for the exhibit before it could be admitted.

Fight Over Reds Due In Electrical Union

An internal explosion resulting from strong opposition to Communist penetration of the CIO United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union threatened today as the organization opened its 12th annual convention today at Hotel Bradford.

A strong anti-Communist bloc, headed by James Carey, national CIO secretary-treasurer, has prepared resolutions opposing the present administration of the union as left wing and calling for the elimination of Communist domination of the union.

As the session opened today, Carey told newsmen that a bitter fight probably would develop over the Communist issue during the week-long convention.

This was indicated when Albert J. Fitzgerald of Lynn, president of the international, addressed the more than 1000 delegates and demanded that they end the factional fight which, he said, threatened to tear down the union.

"If those who are trying to tear down the union with these factional fights persist," he warned, "we will go into their own communities and expose them."

He then launched a bitter attack against Sen. Taft and the Taft Hartley bill, asserting the union would devote its attention to him and to other men in government who were responsible for $1 billion, $150 steaks and $100 suits.

"Sen. Taft and Sen. Wherry almost came to blows over who should get the credit for killing OPA," he said.

"Now they are trying to saddle the present administration with the responsibility for the death of OPA. The working people of the nation will single them out as responsible and take them and their reactionary friends for their last political ride."

He declared the UEW opposed the Taft-Hartley bill in its entirety, not merely for the provision calling for affidavits that the union opposed Communism. He labeled it as a creation of the National Ass'n of Manufacturers, sponsored with the intention of destroying labor.

Mayor Albert Cole, of Lynn, first speaker to address the convention, told the delegates that the union must take action on the rising cost of living and the housing problem.

"There is something fundamentally wrong with both of them," he said. "We must stop finding stop-gaps to relieve them. They furnish neither the remedy nor the solution."

Both he and Fitzgerald declared that housing was a federal problem and that Congress should take action immediately instead of making promises.

While numerous anti-Communist resolutions have been prepared for presentation to the convention, a number of resolutions condemning Carey and his anti-Communist bloc also are in the mill.

Most of these demand that Carey and his followers disband the committee set up last year to combat alleged Communist domination of the union. The committee was ordered dissolved by the union's executive committee last March on the ground it represented a "dual movement, organized outside the union to carry on disruptive activity within the union."

MURDER TALE HOAX—New York police today branded as a hoax the story that two youths told that they had seen the body of Mrs. Vera Kenney, 35-year-old Brooklyn mother of two children, tossed from an auto. Police said she was apparently the victim of a hit-run driver.

Russia Moves Troops in Reich

LONDON, Sept. 22 (INS).—The London News Chronicle said today Russian forces are being moved to strategic parts of the Soviet zone of Germany in case "the existing fundamental east-west disagreement over Germany's future crystallizes into open cleavage."

The newspaper reported the movements of troops and tank formations in a dispatch from Berlin which attributed them to a desire to be "ready for a situation which may arise" if the Big Four London Conference in November fails.

The dispatch quoted "absolutely trustworthy sources" and said:

"All along the Baltic coast inside the Soviet zone, the gloves of war are being put on again."

It is said Soviet officials claim the movements are merely "fall maneuvers."

Articles Left by Lodger Believed Stolen Property

Quincy police today seized property left in a Quincy Y.M.C.A. room and checked it against articles stolen in breaks in three homes in that city.

The property, including Cuban currency, two rings, American coins and a suitcase, was found in a room rented to a man, who gave a New York address, after he had not visited the room for several days.

Metro Looks To Extension; Hint Fare Rise

Trustees of the Metropolitan Transit Authority, which took over the now publicly-owned Elevated system, indicated in a radio symposium the Metro would fight any competition in the area of 14 cities and towns it serves, and also disclosed plans had been drawn for further extensions in the near future.

A hint was also dropped during the discussion it may be necessary to boost the present 10-cent fare to meet increasing costs of operation.

Carroll Meins, chairman of the MTA trustees, presided at the symposium. He asserted despite the saving of $610,000 in guaranteed dividends and relief from federal and excise taxes, the fixed charges still had to be met.

Asked whether there was any likelihood of a change in the present fare, Trustee Joseph Gannon replied:

"That is the $64 question. In view of the high cost of everything that goes into the running of the railway and the loss from operation, at the existing fare, I see no possibility of a reduction. As to whether the fare will have to be increased, we cannot now say."

Gannon revealed the deficit for operating the road during the first seven months of this year was $2,300,000.

The trustees indicated the Metro would oppose the expenditure of money to widen highways and build express traffic arteries, on the grounds the subway lines could move more people in and out of downtown Boston.

Arabs Threaten Break With U. S.

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP)—An Arab spokesman said today the Arab world had agreed to make "a complete economic and cultural break" with Europe and America if the United Nations should attempt to partition Palestine.

The self-styled propagandist for the Arabs made his statement after British foreign office source said Britain would accept such partition if other UN members help carry out the project.

Colonial Sec. Jones leaves by plane for New York tonight to present Britain's views to the UN Assembly.

New Jersey Joins N. Y. Express Strike

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (INS)—The three-day strike of Railway Express Agency drivers and helpers in New York spread to New Jersey today, when 2100 members of the AFL International Teamsters' Union joined the walkout.

The walkout will affect Railway Express shipments between terminals in New Jersey and delivery and pickup stations in New York. Already nearly half a million parcels have been backlogged in New York.

Tokyo Flood Victims Angry at Ration Delay

TOKYO, Sept. 22 (AP)—Floodwaters subsided slightly in Tokyo today, but the tempers of hungry flood victims were rising.

Complaints against delay in distribution of rations were climaxed when some 200 Japanese paddled to the Katsushika Ward office demanding bread. The complainants were disbursed after a lengthy argument and 12 police were assigned to guard the office.

Hunt Firebug As 2 Victims Are Buried

NORWAY, Me., Sept. 22 — While funeral services were being held today for the two victims of one of three simultaneous fires that broke out here, investigators continued search for a firebug they are convinced touched off the fires.

Meanwhile, this town was gripped by a fear the arsonist might strike again, and home owners kept an alert vigil through the night. Clergymen spoke on the fires in Sunday sermons.

Rev. Carl Seaburg, pastor of the Universalist Church, presided at rites for Jefferson Melbye, 14, and his brother David, 6 months, at the Raymond Funeral Home. They died in a fire that swept the Melbye home, routing seven other members of the family, and spread to a barn and another house, destroying both.

The two other fires were in the Diamond Match Co. plant and the Cooperative Union grain store. Total damage was figured at $100,000.

Sheriff Fernando Francis and State investigators have questioned more than 20 witnesses and suspects, including a man known to authorities as an arsonist, who was recently released from State Prison in Thomaston.

15 Youths Flee Missouri Training School

BOONVILLE, Mo., Sept. 22 (AP)—Fifteen youths fled last night from the Missouri State Training School for Boys, where 189 inmates have made escapes in the last five months. One of the 15 was recaptured shortly after the break.

Most Girls Okay New Styles; Like It or Leave It, Fellers!

By CONSTANCE KNAUBER

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22 (INS)—You male self-styled fashion experts might just as well quit beefing about the new feminine fashions, because the little woman likes 'em.

At least so says the Fashion Club of America, Inc., which took a vote among 7600 women in the U. S., Hawaii, Canada and the Canal Zone.

Seventy-nine per cent of the women polled were in favor of the new styles in general. Another 19 per cent threw up their hands in horror, while two per cent — imagine — just couldn't make up their minds.

Of course, a few of the new fads in fashion left the ladies cold. These included last spring's attempt to introduce pink, yellow, green and light blue hosiery. The women were overwhelmingly against these, but only 60 per cent nixed the new dark shades of hosiery, while 35 per cent approved the latter.

SKIRTS PUZZLE 'EM

Only a handful of the gals — seven per cent — like the new exaggerated sleeve styles, while a mere 15 per cent would be willing to sport the latest in hats.

But long skirts got a big okay from the women, who seemed to get a little mixed up in their vote on five skirt types. Eighty-two per cent liked the skirt at mid-calf, yet 25 per cent said they favored skirts as in 1946. Full, circular skirts were eight times more popular than the revival of the early 20th Century hobble skirts.

SILHOUETTES PLEASE 'EM

The new silhouettes, which go from one extreme of lots of bulges to the other extreme of complete camouflage, were popular in the club survey.

The Figure Eight silhouette, with the accent above and below the waist, rated with 70 per cent of the women polled.

Eighty-one per cent like the Triangle silhouette—slim hips, hiloway bosom—and 92 per cent okayed the tubular or slim line, an oddity in that 92 per cent of American women aren't slim you put up with the little woman or girl friend who's among the 79 per cent approving the new styles in general, or you switch to a new one from the ranks of the 21 per cent who don't like 'em or can't make up their minds.

14 8 Hollywood Luminaries Face Red Quiz

By DAVID SENTNER

Boston American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 At least two well-known screen directors, two noted film writers and one famous comedian will be confronted with an official record of their numerous Communist front affiliations when they testify before the House committee on un-American activities.

They will be among forty Hollywood witnesses to be summoned Oct. 20 for the public hearing on Communist influence in the motion picture industry. The committee is headed by Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R.) of New Jersey.

Dossiers, with the number of red front connections, were being compiled today by the committee staff on the following witnesses: (figure in parentheses stands for number of citations in the un-American activities committee files):

Actor: Charlie Chaplin (5); Film writers: John Howard Lawson (50); Donald Ogden Stewart (72); Clifford Odets (34); Albert Maltz (29); Ring Lardner Jr. (8).

Screen directors: Herbert Biberman (15); Lewis Milestone (8). Lewis Milestone is scheduled to be questioned before the committee regarding a gala party purportedly held at his home in June, 1945, attended by the Hollywood elite.

He will be asked for verification of a committee investigator's report that the guests of honor were William Z. Foster and other well-known Communists.

Charlie Chaplin will be questioned, among other matters, on his address in 1942 before the Communist front group Artists Front to Win the War.

STORE UP IRON for YOUR BLOOD

Get Vitamin B1 for your Nerves

When the body craves these vital elements, a rich supply runs out color in your cheeks, and body you feel blue as a new person WITH ALCOHOL OR HABIT-FORMING DRUG.

When your system is low in iron and Vitamin B1 many vital organs slow down. You often look pale, lose your appetite, get tired easily, sleep poorly, and feel nervous and shaky. Iron helps make red blood, and red blood is vital for healthy muscles, healthy skin, healthy glands and healthy organs. Iron poor blood may cause low vitality, heart palpitations, absence of breath, swollen ankles and frequent periods of ill health.

You need Vitamin B1 and if you don't have enough Vitamin B1 you may get a nervous, restless, stomach upset, constipation, weak appetite, mental depression, restless sleep.

In these conditions take NATURE'S iron-vitamin, the only iron-vitamin that tastes like juice of wild berries and gives you more iron every day than 6 lbs. of spinach or 6 lbs. of tomatoes, more Vitamin B1 daily than 4 lb. of bananas or wheat. Your body comes back with a bounce when you restore missing iron and Vitamin B1 and you eat more, stop worrying, and sleep better. Right in this neighborhood, many men, women and children feel keen and lead happier lives through the help of NATURE'S iron-vitamin. NATURE'S costs only a few cents a day. NATURE'S refined, unadulterated improves your state of well-being. Sold only at

Army to Speed Shipment

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (INS)—The Army announced today that improvement in transportation and housing conditions will result shortly in speeding up the movement to Europe of dependents of military personnel.

Personnel affected are Army and air force officers, warrant officers, enlisted men of the first

These DaysBy George E. Sokolsky

Copyright, 1947, King Features Synd., Inc.

GEN. EISENHOWER is having a tough time over his candidacy for the Republican nomination. He could make it easy for himself by announcing flatly that he is not a candidate and will not accept the nomination if offered. That would settle everything. Nobody has to be a candidate even he considered to be one. All he needs to do is to declare himself out in language which no one will misunderstand.

But why should he do it? Certainly there is no reason why he should not accept the nomination, if offered, except that he is embarrassed by all the talk and the organization of Eisenhower clubs and the support of Alf Landon and the Kansas City Star while he is Mr. Truman's chief of staff.

It is not Hoyle for the chief of staff, while in office, to be running against his President. And Ike would apparently like to do it according to Hoyle or Emily Post or Lord Chesterfield's "Letters to His Son" or something equally correct and proper.

IN FACT, what Ike Eisenhower needs is a break. The reporters and political columnists should refer to him in the most laudatory terms, as he is deserving; they terms, but they should tie him up lightly with his prospective job as president of Columbia University.

They should omit or no circumstances ever refer to the utterly and painfully obvious efforts that are being made, undoubtedly against his wishes and without his consent, yet at no time unmistakably stopped by him, to make him the Republican candidate.

SUCH THINGS do not happen. The bread and butter of a reporter is news. That Ike Eisenhower is a candidate for the presidency is news. It has been news for more than a year. It has been news since he went down to Atlantic City to address the CIO convention and said things which may do him good or plague him as a politician.

It is also a fit subject for speculation to wonder what Harry Truman will do to Ike Eisenhower. Or for that matter what Ike will do to Harry.

For one thing, Truman must be combating the flies to discover just what responsibility Eisenhower bears for these events during and since the war for which the Republicans blame Roosevelt and Truman.

That is the tough part of Eisenhower's situation. He can say that as a soldier he took orders. As a candidate, that is what he and his supporters will say.

But the opponents will ask whether a man who takes orders against his conscience is fit to be President and whether they will agree as to whether he was responsible for misadvising his chiefs.

I KNOW NOTHING about this at the moment. I am simply laying out the pattern of such a campaign. To offset Eisenhower's popularity, the opposition must destroy him from the record on the conduct of the war, on the agreement to delay our troops so that the Russians could come up and give the appearance of a conquering army, particularly as it affected Gen. Patton's army, involving huge loss of life, and his subsequent conduct as chief of staff, including order JCS-1067, which is responsible for most of our troubles in Europe.

I want to make it clear that I am accusing Gen. Eisenhower of nothing; I simply speculate on what Harry Truman must do to defeat Eisenhower, perhaps in advance of the Republican convention.

Quincy Man, Bride Rescued From Bay

Thrown into Quincy bay when their rowboat overturned early today, a Quincy man and his bride were rescued by a yachtsman after they had clung to the hull of their craft for 20 minutes.

Matthew Foley, 30, and his bride, Ellen, 27, of Pond st., were rowing off the Quincy Adams boat yard in Palmer st., Quincy, when their craft tipped as they were changing positions.

Their screams were heard by Roy G. MacPherson, who lives aboard a small yacht moored at the boat yard. He rowed to their side and lifted both aboard his dinghy.

At the pier, an ambulance removed them to Quincy City Hospital, where they were held for treatment or immersion.

Weekly Magazine Exposes Fakers

Too many Americans believe that "students of the occult" can look at some tea leaves, a crystal ball, or a chart of the heavens, and so give useful information and advice about financial matters and affairs of the heart.

Still others, too glib for their own good, fall for a variety of swindles by gypsies and swamis, with the annual loss to fortune-tellers' victims in this country alone estimated at $125,000,000.

A valuable article about the various types of these charlatans, revealing how they work and what has happened to some of their disillusioned victims, will be featured in next Sunday's American Weekly, magazine issued with the Boston Sunday Advertiser. Don't miss "Wiles of the Fortune Tellers."

IRA Leader Fleming Seized, Starts New Fast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Sept. 22 (AP)—David Fleming, 28, former leader of the outlawed Irish Republican Army who was released from jail and banned from Northern Ireland last November after two long hunger strikes, was arrested at Belfast Airport and a police source said Fleming announced he was beginning another fast immediately. Fleming, serving a 12-year sentence for treason and larceny, abstained from food for 77 days in the spring of 1946 and staged another 45-day hunger strike last fall. He was released on medical grounds.

Papal Aid Sought In School Conflict

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22 (AP) — Most Rev. Amleto Coggiani, apostolic delegate to the U. S. will be asked by a group of St. Louis Catholics to intercede in a conflict here over enrollment of Negro children with white children in parochial schools.

This action was decided on at a meeting last night of about 500 members of a group protesting the recent action of Archbishop Joseph Ritter in ordering Negro Catholic children admitted to white schools in order to alleviate crowded conditions in the Negro schools.

Archbishop Ritter warned in a pastoral letter read in all Catholic churches yesterday, of "the serious penalty of excommunication" should an individual or group "presume to interfere in the administrative office of their bishop by having recourse to any authority outside the church."

Hungary Leaders See War Possible But Not Inevitable

By KINGSBURY SMITH

BUDAPEST, Sept. 22 (INS)—The possible danger of a third world war was foreseen today by Hungary's foremost political leaders.

These top-flight political personalities, including the prime minister and the head of the Communist party, expressed conviction, however, that a major conflict between East and West is "by no means inevitable." The working classes of Hungary for their part believe there will be no war. "These are the main impressions gathered during a two weeks' visit to Hungary during which I sought an answer to the question: "Is war coming?"

Hungary was chosen as the first country to be visited in search for an answer to this vital question because this little nation is one of the danger spots. If war should come between East and West, Hungary's political leaders believe generally it will spring basically from rivalries.

Extreme leftist elements in Hungary hold the U. S. accountable for the present dangers to world peace, while extreme rightists say Soviet Russia is to blame.

PREMIER'S STAND
Prime Minister Laszlo Dinyes, in an exclusive statement to International News Service, set forth his position clearly.

He said: "The only danger to world peace at present comes from those circles which are using politics to camouflage a desire for economic expansion."

"While these circles constitute a danger, I do not believe that a third world war is inevitable."

"I am convinced that behind the political differences between Russia and the West there are, in reality, economic differences. If those can be reconciled, and if big and powerful nations respect the rights, independence and liberty of all other nations, including the small countries, war can be avoided."

COMMUNIST'S VIEW
Matyas Rakosi, Russian-born leader of the Communist party and the dominant political personality in Hungary, had this to say:

"If it depends upon America's monopolistic capitalism, the world is drifting in the direction of a third world war."

"Fortunately, however, the majority of the working men and women of America want peace."

"The overwhelming majority of the European people, having suffered from the terrible destruction of the last war, desire peace even more than the American people."

"A conflict between East and West certainly is not inevitable. People of all countries are opposed to it."

Hungarian working people with whom I talked, including peasants, Communist city workers, businessmen and professionals generally stood emphatic in their belief there will not be another war.

Almost invariably, the burden of their argument was: "The peoples of the world will not stand for it."

Nuns, Priests Face Charge Of Czech Treason Plot

PRAGUE, Sept. 22 (INS)—Slovakian priests, nuns and school teachers were reported among 100 persons facing charges of plotting to overthrow the Czech government.

All the nuns were believed to be from a Catholic hospital, where security agents claimed they found a secret printing plant for subversive literature.

A GRACIOUS LADY

HONORING THE BIRTHDAY of the Australian nurse who has become one of the most loved and respected women in the world in consequence of her discovery and practice of the Sister Kenny method of treating infantile paralysis, the Michigan Foundation conducted impressive public ceremonies in Detroit and the highest officials of the State and a great throng of the people participated with warm enthusiasm and a deep sense of appreciation and affection.

As the climax of the occasion, the Foundation announced that any Michigan war veteran suffering from infantile paralysis, or any member of his family so afflicted, will hereafter be entitled to receive the Kenny treatment without cost, with all necessary expenses for hospitalization and transportation fully paid.

It is a helpful service to the most deserving group of people in our national life.

It is made possible by the generosity of thousands of people whose financial contributions support the constructive program of the Kenny Foundation and enable it to alleviate the suffering and tragedy caused by one of the most malevolent diseases known to human experience.

It fulfills the humanitarian purpose which has been the incentive for Sister Kenny in her practice of her amazing healing powers throughout the world, and to which she has dedicated her professional and her personal life.

Sister Kenny is a woman of remarkable skill and initiative and resource in her profession, and of rare and admirable spiritual concepts, and of indefatigable energy and superlative courage.

She has pitied her talents and faith against a monstrous enemy of mankind, and has prevailed against it in a marvelous and almost miraculous degree.

She has been opposed by the narrow prejudices and reluctance to accept change and suspicion of progressive innovations which have impeded medical science throughout its history, and has refused to be obstructed.

She has made her revolutionary and beneficial method of treatment a boon to humanity, and in consequence of that service to mankind has a monument of reverent gratitude in the hearts of men and women and children delivered by her ministrations from anguish and despair.

A DISGRACE

THE ESCAPE of three convicts from the State Prison at Charlestown underscores the already generally known fact that this ancient bastille is a disgrace to Massachusetts.

It is hypocrisy for any person who defends this institution to claim that he has the remotest interest in reform or rehabilitation.

Charlestown is the symbol and embodiment of the theory that society is justified in taking any kind of revenge on those who violate its laws and that nobody should be unduly concerned with the treatment accorded the banished portion of the population.

Dante's famous line, "Abandon Hope, All Ye Who Enter Here," would be an appropriate inscription for its front door.

Year after year, twinges of conscience cause a few Senators and Representatives to suggest, rather weakly of course, that Charlestown be scrapped and replaced by something more suited to the times.

It is time for Governor Bradford to take both a personal and official interest in conditions at Charlestown.

It is also time for all judges, the highest as well as the lowest, to visit Charlestown regularly, for the moral responsibility of these officers does not end with the mere interpretation of a law or the passing of a sentence.

The Governor and judges should put themselves in a position to guide the Legislators and to remind them that the penology of a state with Christian ideals ought to have some regard for human lives and immortal souls.

WHILE THE above passage is very familiar to all of us, many people do not know the title of the poem in which the lines appear. It is "To a Louse on Seeing One On a Lady's Bonnet at Church."

BRIEFLY: Cora Blacketer, Cicero, Ill., philhellene, has a collection of over 10,000 match box covers, all different...

"So a home person whose ignorance amazes me wants to know if there ever was a film star born in the borough of the Bronx," writes a Bronxite. "Sylvia Sidney was born at 131st st. and Brown place, the Bronx."

AMONG MARRIED career women, only about one in 100,000 turn her pay check over to her husband. The great majority of career girls consider the wife who hands her weekly wage to her husband to be a chump. I have a letter from a school teacher in a rural section of Wisconsin. Her husband works on a large farm. She turns her pay check over to him. He combines it with his and manages the family finances. This couple own their home, have five children and money in the bank. "We are very, very happy," says the wife.

ASKING: Queries from clients. Q. Who introduced the song "Mrs. Sippy You're a Grand Old Lady, Mrs. Sippy You're a Grand Old Girl"? A. Never heard of it. Even so I think you have the title wrong. It probably is a river song titled "Mississippi You're a Grand Old Lady." Q. You claim a man, if so inclined, can do anything a woman can and do it better. Can a man give birth to a baby? W. While some women seem reluctant to admit it the birth of a baby is not possible without male co-operation. It cannot possibly be an exclusive achievement of either sex. Therefore, it has no place in the discussion of the claim aforementioned.

HORSES AND WOMEN: The long girls like the long skirts. Designers and manufacturers are partial to lengthy ladies. They display clothes better and thus inspire buying. If this is not the case, why are most of the dress models tall and terrific types? Why do all the advertisements depict tall females? Why are most of the mannish statuesque, streamlined types? This comment is inspired by the cold, calculated, impartial, unprejudiced research of our Horses and Women Department, as to the long vs. short skirt controversy. Our experts are beginning to suspect the petite females are victims of a conspiracy which favors lengthy women. Should this be found to be a fact, a bitter campaign will immediately be launched by our H and W Department in behalf of small women. So there, little trick, don't you cry, you may get a style that suits you by and by.

The stargazers say Capricorn women (Dec. 22-Jan. 18) are generally charming and witty and have powers of reasoning which go far beyond what men ordinarily expect of women. They are partial to the sophisticated type of man. More on Capricorns anon. Maybe sooner.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—The national government is liable to be wasting its energy and money in the attempt to deport three foreign-born unionists who are suspected of being Communists and thus enemies of the United States.

These are John Santo, a Romanian, of the Transport Workers' Union, which is forever tormenting New York with slow-downs on the buses and subways and threats of one big, paralyzing strike; Michael J. Obermeier, president of a hotel and club servants' union of the A. F. of L., and Ferdinand Smith, a West Indian, of the National Maritime Union. Santo, who has several other names, and Smith have been charged with illegal entry as well.

The Supreme Court asserted itself in a similar case against Harry Bridges. He had been convicted of Communist "affiliation." Bridges had been found guilty by Charles B. Sears of New York, one of the best judges in the country, sitting as examiner. Francis Biddle, the attorney general, signed an order to throw Bridges out of the country.

TO BALK BIDDLE: Bridges sued for a writ of habeas corpus in the U. S. District Court and lost. Then he lost in the Court of Appeals. The score was now 3 to 0 in favor of the people of the United States, but they did not fare so well in the Supreme Court.

There Hugo Black wrote the majority opinion holding that Bridges didn't really "affiliate" with the enemies of our government. All he did was "co-operate" and anyway he stopped at some hairline on the lawful side of their illicit final purpose to overthrow the government by violent insurrection.

Frank Murphy almost had hysterics in this case. He wrote that police departments and other "public agencies" and groups of farmers and veterans had "joined in an unremitting effort to deport" Bridges.

Murphy also moaned about the terrible injustice of depriving an alien of the chance to earn a living in the United States.

THERE IS JUST NO doubt that members of the Communist Party are implacable enemies and traitors. The House Committee on Un-American Activities has proved this fact repeatedly from many angles.

Incidentally, it is amusing nowadays to watch the reaction of the New York Herald Tribune in such incidents. After the latest report of the committee, sure enough, on a Sunday on Page One of the editorial section, two columns wide, William Shriver said the committee was trying to make all Americans conform to its own idea of "Americanism."

What the committee was doing was simply to show from the records that Communists are ruled from Moscow and always in Moscow's interest and to give the names of those who had taken part in their dirty work.

The Herald Tribune seems to be going after some of the circulation of the Daily Worker and Marshall Field's thing.

STRANGE, DRAMATIC THINGS may happen in our country as the conspiracy wars to the explosion. The same Supreme Court decided in another case that there is nothing wrong with outlaw which would permit "any military commander designated by the Secretary of War" to throw into concentration camps all those actors, writers and lawyers, all those Communist unionists and radio orators, who have indicated a tolerance or preference for Russia. A corporal or a buck private could do this.

The law doesn't single out Communists or Fellow Travelers or immigrants from Russia or Russia's satellite countries. IT SAYS "ANY PERSON" MAY BE FORBIDDEN TO "REMAIN IN" ANY PLACE.

That means that whenever we get fed up we can round up those listed by the Congressional Committee and stick them away in the desert as we did the Japs.

We can confiscate all their money and property by a provision which says they may be forbidden to commit "any act" and fined $5000 for each offense.

IN THE RECENT WAR we applied this law almost exclusively to Japs, but whenever we have a mind to we may apply it selectively to natives of Bessarabia, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Poland and the Baltic countries and their sons and daughters. We could exempt our friends.

It is idle to ask if this wouldn't have some bad effect on our "democracy." If we ever do this we are going to be so damn mad that we will be thinking of safety first and our safety, not theirs, as we did when Gen. De Witt rounded up the Japs after Pearl Harbor.

We came through this without losing our country or our freedom. We did even worse in the Civil War.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 22 (INS)—I am glad someone has the courage to fight the arbitrary actions of Lloyd Binford, chairman of the Memphis censor board.

"I have not consulted any attorney," she said, "and he is handling the whole thing. Our only trouble is that his business is in Sweden and he does not want to leave there. I love America and expect to make my home in Hollywood, so there didn't seem to be any chance of our getting together."

He is her second husband. Her two children are with her. I didn't know until today that Ragard was once married to actress Signe Hasso.

Rita Hayworth told me she had such a fleeting visit in New York she's going back the 27th for a session in the theater. "I want to see 'Born Yesterday,'" she told me, "and 'Judy Holiday' as well."

"I am never into Jean Arthur, but I heard she was good, too. Still, I don't see how she could be any better than the Holiday girl."

This role, which Rita will play, is a different sort of thing, a really tough little girl who, after she meets a newspaper friend, becomes literary-minded and eager to join the intelligentsia.

Annabella writes that she is returning to America very soon, the very day she completes the French picture she is now making, and that she will "rush" her divorce from Tyrone Power.

Says Annabella, "I am quite ready to get him free whenever he wishes. Turned out before I left and later by letter he was in no hurry to get a divorce. Now, with all this unpleasant publicity about my unwillingness to free him, I shall do so immediately. I am very happy with my French pictures, but eager to return to California and see my friends."

Sailing with Linda Christians from New York is her stepfather, Dr. Alvarez Amezcua, a noted authority on cancer. He is being sent to Europe by President Aleman of Mexico, for further cancer research. The theory he has is hailed by Mexico City doctors as a remarkable advance in the treatment of this dread disease.

Also in New York is Turhan Bey, who is there to see Linda off, and I wouldn't be one bit surprised if when she returns they will marry. Linda does a musical in Mexico for MGM in the summer.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD collected at random: Elizabeth Jane Williams, 18-year-old sister of Kay Williams Sprecckles, eloped to Las Vegas Saturday. Her bridegroom is gord, Swedish attorney. According to Miss Lindfors, she and her husband met in Paris and agreed to make their separation a legal one.

Gordon Douglas, 20-year-old son of a local contractor. Collette Lyons is in Las Vegas to divorce Alan Dinehart Jr. Dick Ross, who plays Ann Sheridan's brother in "Good Sam," will marry Terry Barker, a non-professional, on Nov. 15.

Joyce Matthews will head for Hollywood after she obtains her divorce from Milton Here.

Frances and Sam Goldwyn are in Sun Valley for a holiday. From there they go to New York and then to Europe for three months. Sam, Jr., left Saturday to join the J. Arthur Rank organization in London.

The "Ice Follies of 1948" reviews rave. The costumes are beautiful. Roddy McDowall, who was so badly hurt a few weeks ago, was well enough to be there with Ann Blyth.

Ann Blyth came with Greg Bauter, Ann Miller with Cesar Romero and Ava Gardner with Peter Lawford. They all dined with the Lew Wassermans.

Bette Davis and William Grant Sherry made one of their few public appearances, and Sonia Henie was there to applaud the skaters. All of them gave her a nod of recognition.

Keenan Wynn staged it while his papa, Ed Wynn, had three beautiful blondes—Mrs. Wynn and two others. The Edward Laskers were guests of honor at a sumptuous party given Saturday night by the Charlie Morrisons at Mocambo.

Don't be surprised if Jane Powell's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burce, reconcile. One of the conditions under which Mrs. Burce will return to her husband stipulates that he dispose of his malt shops in Hollywood because they kept him too busy. Already he's sold one.

Ronald Reagan is on his way to Eureka College, his alma mater, where he will crown the Pumpkin Queen prior to the big football game there.

The former Mrs. Lou Holtz and Carl Leserman may be reading an announcement. They are together constantly. Gene Tierney arrived home Saturday night. She left her daughter, Daria, with her mother in New York because she will head for New York herself as soon as she finishes "Walls of Jericho."

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 —Max Baer and Maxie Rosenbloom are negotiating for the rights to "Panama Hattie," the Ethel Merman musical, which they would like to take on a nationwide tour.

The boys say, if they can snare the rights they will be able to get Ann Sothern to play the leading role. . . . Intimates believe Howard Hawks and his wife (America's Best-Dressed Woman) are planning to give their marriage another whirl.

Which may mean that Margaret Sullavan and Leland Hayward will too. . . . There may be more action in the stands than on the field during the World Series when a flock of ballplayers from out-of-town teams, here to view the games, discover they've all been dating the same girl. Ten of them asked her to be their Series sweetheart. . . . Joan Caulfield and Writer John McClain are a Hollywood duet.

ELEANOR POWELL, who tried dieting too quickly, is under doctor's care. She collapsed during the rehearsal. . . . Noel Coward is flooring those who always fawned over his fastidious garb by wearing a pencil thin white belt—the type you see with beach shorts—with all his dark fall tailcoats. . . . Former Dead End Kid Gabriel Dell and actress Barbara Adams have been Mr. and Mrs. for six months. . . . Celebrity Service biggie Ted Strong of Gotham was to be the 26th guest at the Jane Withers-Bill Moss wedding ceremony. It was expected to be the biggest Hollywood wedding since the Rod LaRoque-Vilma Banky nuptials two decades ago, and Jane had booked two entire hotels to take care of out-of-town guests.

DIANA BARRYMORE, although not yet divorced from John Howard has fallen in love again, she confides to intimates. Won't reveal it's identity, but swoons "this is the real thing."

The Gordon MacRae's (he's the singer, she's Sheila Stevens of the stage) will lobby for the third time in March. That's Gabriel Heatter's voice heard (but not identified) in the new Jimmy Stewart picture, "Magic Town." . . . June Knight and Johnny Dale are Sardi sweethearts. . . . A poll taken at 200 Arthur Murray dance studios revealed that 80 per cent of the pupils resented the new long dresses on the grounds that they "make dancing difficult."

TOPS IN TOWN: Florida Fradus' sleek performance in "State of the Union"—the Bklyn version. . . . Mario and Florida, the enchanting dance team, at the Copacabana. The new Warner chiller, "The Unsuspected." Claude Thornhill's smooth crew at the Pennsylvania. . . . Gordon MacRae's first Capitol duet—"Body and Soul," backed by "When a Fellow Needs a Girl" from the "Allegro" score. A swell record.

Anita O'Day's sprightly caroling at Club Troubadour.

ELLIOT NUGENT's daughter Lee is off to Reno to seek a legal ending to her marriage to John Gerstad. It lasted just about a year. . . . Party audiences are raving about Jerome Robbins' comic ballet, in the second act of "High Button Shoes." Slabe Howard, one of the Three Stooges—the one with the shaved head—let his hair grow back for his niece's wedding. He's so pleased with his new looks that he won't shave them off again, and his brother stooges are howling. . . . When the costumes failed to arrive in time for his opening show at the Town Casino in Buffalo Wally Wanger sent the showgirls and dancers on stage in bathing suits and street clothes. The newspapers commended Wally for his showmanship, but alleged the whole performance was a stunt to get people to return to the club the next night to see the costumes. . . . Dean Murphy has been invited to visit Eleanor Roosevelt at Campobello Island after his Versailles stint. She's staging a reunion with Elliott, Franklin, Jr., and John—all of whom Murphy will impersonate when he attends the gathering.

LOUISE HOWARD, the comedienne at the No. 1 Bar, is appearing with a doctor in attendance nightly. But it's not serious—just a small heart ailment. He's her beau. . . . Linda Darnell looks so terrific as Amber that studio bosses want her to stay a blonde for her next two pictures. Which is fine for the audiences, but the bleaching process is playing havoc with Linda's naturally luxurious tresses. . . . Oleg Cassini and Gene Tierney had rendezvous in the most unexpected place: Sammy's Delicatessen, where they sit unrecognized by most of the customers and give the little salami-sandwich Continental air by chatting in French. Metro is so concerned about competition from British film makers, it is offering everything but the family jewels to re-sign stars whose contracts are expiring. The first big deal was tendered to Greer Garson, who, ironically, is a Briton.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 My social secretary, Mrs. Tabitha Talcott Pratt, waddled hippily into office today wearing a long skirt that billowed down to the redwood boots that pass for her ankles and declared she was not going to stand for anyone calling her immoral.

Mr. Grover Whitney McKeister, the distinguished legislative consultant, removed the cigar from the left center of his oily puss and regarded the old Pratt quizzically.

"Immoral," he asked, "Somehow, read lady, I never thought of you in that light. Who has been traducing your well-known virtue?"

"That preacher," replied Mrs. Pratt. "He says that long skirts are immoral."

"Not on you they're not," cut in Miss Reid. "They're a sanctuary."

"I can never understand," Mrs. Pratt told me accusingly, "why you tolerate this young snip, always getting fresh with her betters. My niece, Bettina, who is one of the younger Pratts, would be very happy to accept a position here if approached in the right manner."

"I know the right manner to approach her, too," countered Miss Reid. "In a suit of chain mail. Men have been known to grease themselves when they suspect she is going to be present, so she can't get a good grip on them."

I REMINDED Mrs. Pratt I had been out of town and asked what preacher she was referring to.

"The Rev. Dr. A. Powell Davies, of All Souls' Unitarian Church here," replied my social secretary. "He appealed to American women not to wear longer skirts, declaring they are immoral."

"Didn't he also," butted in Miss Reid, "advise that they are immoral because they waste material that is desperately needed by the world's suffering people?"

"I believe he did," admitted Tabitha, but that isn't the point. He could have said they were wasteful or even that they were selfish but he has no right, just because I like to keep up to date, to make me out a fallen woman."

Before Mrs. Pratt could recover her breath Miss Reid stuck in another harpoon. "Ordinarily," she said, "I would never agree with this old eyesore on anything, and while I am not one to criticize the cloth I am afraid the Rev. Davies overlooked a salient point in connection with our national morality."

"What could be more denigrating to a nation than old gurgles like Tabby with skirts hitchhiking above their knees?"

I READ in a Broadway column, conducted by a Miss Dorothy Kilgallen, that Johnny Meyer had got married abroad to Miss Janet Thomas, of Hollywood.

I trust that Mr. Meyer did not forget himself and scrawl across the marriage license: "Charge to Hughes Aircraft Company."

The situation has other intriguing possibilities. Suppose the day comes when Miss Thomas, in the best Hollywood tradition, puts in a bill for alimony and her loving spouse scribbles:

"Okay to pay—J. W. M."

Escapes Train, Killed by 80-Foot Fall From Trestle
 Carl J. Olson, 49, of Talbot ave., Dorchester, a laborer employed by the Boston & Albany railroad, was killed in a 60-80-foot fall from a railroad trestle in Chester.
 A companion told police the pair were walking back to a work camp and on the trestle they heard a train approach. He said he stepped off the tracks, but Olson lost his balance and fell as he stepped out of the train's path.

Pro-Soviet Front Plans Tito Drive

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—A new Tito propaganda drive will be launched this week by a pro-Soviet front organization with a minister heading the list of speakers who will whitewash the Yugoslav dictator.
 Selected to head the propagandists for the anti-Catholic Tito is Rev. William Howard Melish, associate rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity in Brooklyn, recently called by the Moscow paper Pravda one of Russia's "best friends" in America.
 Rev. Mr. Melish, who headed a delegation of seven ministers to Yugoslavia recently and returned with glowing accounts of Tito's "democracy," will speak under sponsorship of two Communist fronts, the Council of American-Soviet Friendship and the United Committee of South Slavic Americans.

Keep Right On Saving Used Fats

says MARIAN YOUNG, WOR's Maribea Deane, Star Radio Commentator

Yes, indeed . . . there's still a need for every pound of salvaged fat we can get. Here's what Secretary of Commerce W. A. Harriman says about the situation: "Not only the United States but the entire world still lacks adequate supplies of fats and oils." We in America are particularly short of industrial fats. Many of the things we all use require industrial fats or their products. So please . . . keep on with the magnificent job you've been doing. Turn in your used cooking fat regularly. It's a real help.

Faith Healer, 20, Seeks Citizenship

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22 (AP)—Avak Hagopian, 20, bearded Armenian faith healer, laid his hands on the sick and crippled at three public services in the Shrine Auditorium.

He appeared at services of his new associate, Dr. Clem Davies, evangelist. Avak also has two new sponsors, Tom Kardashian and William Perumian, Los Angeles businessmen.

He told reporters through an interpreter that he hopes to become an American citizen, but "it is the will of God that the whole world be my home," Dr. Davies asked the faithful to pray for removal of Avak's visa, expiring Nov. 6.

Man Held as Woman Dies In Auto-Truck Mishap

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Sept. 22—Mrs. Mary Burr, 68, of Simon St., was instantly killed; her husband, William, 63, was critically injured and near death at Memorial Hospital, and Mrs. Bertha Drury, 38, of Priscilla ave., was also injured, when the right side of the car in which they were riding was sheared off as it side-swiped a parked truck in Prospect st.

John Drury, 38, husband of the injured woman, was arrested and in a special session of district court was held in $2000 on a charge of driving to endanger. He told police he was blinded by the headlights of an approaching car.

GI Killed, 24 Safe In Plane Crash

MANILLA, Sept. 22 (AP)—One American soldier was reported dead and 24 others safe after their Army C-46 transport crashed in the mountains north of Manila.

One of the men aboard the plane was missing, and another was found, but his condition had not been reported to Army headquarters.

The plane and its 27 occupants became lost in a storm while flying from Okinawa to Clark Field. As the fuel supply ran low, the pilot, Maj. James T. Gribble, held the plane steady over the village of Tinghayan while the other occupants parachuted to earth.

Hungary in Trade Pact With U. S., British Zones

BERLIN, Sept. 22 (INS)—Hungary signed a trade and commercial memorandum with the U. S. and British zones of Germany.

It was her first international commitment since she was re-admitted to the Family of Nations by enforcement of her peace treaty with the Allies.

Farmer Electrocutd By Own Hawk Trap

SCHWENKSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 22 (AP)—John D. Dunlap, 20, former merchant seaman, decided to do something about the chicken hawks and other birds of prey near his farm.

Dunlap fixed a steel trap atop a pole and waited. A crow became ensnared in the trap. Dunlap climbed the pole to remove the crow, brushed against an electric wire leading into his home and was killed.

Home Garden Forum

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head of the Vegetable Gardening
Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School.
Q—Some animal is digging holes in our lawn.

A—Skunks are probably digging for white grubs or Japanese beetle grubs. If grub infestation is heavy, your lawn can be severely damaged.

Q—Can grapes be picked before they are ripe and ripened in the cool room?

A—To develop good flavor, grapes must be allowed to ripen
in the vine.

Q—What is the best time of the year for transplanting roses?

A—Roses can be transplanted in the spring or fall. If planted in the fall the ground should be mulched heavily to prevent frost freezing, which will allow the roots to become established.

Q—My lawn is infested with several broad-leaved weeds. Can they be killed with chemicals?

A—Spray the lawn now with 2, 4-D weed killer. The grass will then make good growth this fall.

Q—Can we use tobacco stems for mulch around the grounds?

A—Tobacco stems if available, are fine mulch. They are also excellent to add to the compost pile.

Q—How late can Iris be moved?

A—Iris can be moved any time up to Sept. 20. Later plantings do not get too well established before the ground freezes.

Q—Can hardy asters be transplanted now while they are in bloom?

A—By taking the young shoots uniform at the base of the plant, you can make divisions that will grow successfully.

Q—How late can celery be left in the ground without being damaged by frost?

A—Celery can be left in the ground until about Oct. 15 without protection. If banked well with earth it can be left several more weeks. When night temperatures get too low store it in the cold frame or cool part of the cellar.

Q—If I have my soil tested now can I use the report next spring?

A—Yes. Wintering of the soil will not change the chemical properties. It is a good idea to get the reaction now so as to figure the lime requirements early.

Assignment: America

By U. S. Patent Office
By KENNETH L. DIXON
Distributed by International News Service

What's that, Mr. Jones?
You say the downtown shopping traffic was so terrific it took you two hours to get home from work?

And furthermore, you wish those blankie-blank women would stay—

Oh—oh... Now you've put your foot in it. Mrs. Jones heard you, and is she sore!

She couldn't find a parking place anywhere near the shopping sector, and she had to walk 10 blocks, carrying the baby and all those packages, and keeping track of Junior and you know how that child is in a crowd and her feet killing her all the time. (And furthermore, if she ever fails to grab all the parking spaces around the stores every morning—

Now, now, Joneses. Just settle back in your easy chairs and listen to the story of how the city of Beverly plans to solve all these problems — and how jammed metropolitan areas clear across the country soon may follow suit
SHOPPING CENTER

Locally, it's a multi-million-dollar retail shopping experiment known as the "North Shore Center," but the idea has spread so far and fast that an organization known as National Retail Recentralization, Inc., has been formed.

It is already conducting request surveys near Philadelphia,
New Orleans, Chicago, two West
Coast cities and elsewhere.

But the plan will first bear fruit at Beverly where the site has been selected, land purchased, leases signed and construction is slated to begin as soon as possible.

When completed, it will be as fancy a full-service, one-stop shopping emporium as a harassed housewife with three babies and no place to park ever dreamed about! And if successful, it will take a great deal of the jammed traffic and parking problem off downtown Boston.

There is nothing fly-by-night
about the characters involved.
The association is made up of Boston investing trusts, property managers, architects, marketing research men and city planners, including some of the most famous names in American financial and architectural circles. Also, it has a reported capital of $15-$20,000, which is too much sugar to kick around carelessly.

Basic surveys began more than four years ago, according to Huston Rawls, the stocky, fifty-ish financier and former Midwest newspaper man who heads the company and sparkplugs the project.

60-ACRE PLAN
Eventually they bought some 60 acres here in Beverly, right at the intersection of three important highways. They plan to serve primarily the private automobile owners among 300,000 to 400,000 people representing well over 25 per cent of the purchasing power of suburban Boston.

The difference between the Beverly plan and the neighborhood shopping centers you see in many places lies in that the latter usually supply only necessities for the neighborhood trade.

The North Shore Center will go after a wide regional auto trade and the so-called "non-essential" type of buying which comprises some 65 per cent of such suburban purchasing.

That's why other cities are beating a pathway to the Beverly door for details of the project.

Time to Act, Says Pasha, Of UN Delay in Egypt

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (INS)—
BBC said Egyptian Premier No-krashy Pasha told a political meeting in Cairo, Egypt must enlarge her army, for "the time has come to act."

The broadcast quoted Nokrashy as saying an end has come to the time for mere talking about the UN failure to act on Egypt's demands for Britain to quit the Men prefer bottles because beer and ale TASTE BETTER, KEEP BETTER in them; women add that only bottles LOOK smart, appetizing, on the table.

What a convenience! When they're empty, drop these one-way bottles in any waste receptacle! No deposit!
No return! Space-saving. And the lowest price single-trip beer and ale containers on the market!

It leaves flavor strictly alone—

Relief for Oily Skin

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

WE HAVEN'T FORGOTTEN our young lady from Lowell, and her desire to improve her appearance. Nor have we sidetracked cognizance of her "poor complexion, oily and large pores." Doubtless by this time her complexion should be markedly improved if she has followed our advice sent through the mails. But for others who have conditions similar to hers, who suffer from a face with constant shine about the nose and chin areas . . . because the oil gushers in the central facial areas refuse to be pumped dry, we wish to make public discussion of the problem.

An oily skin is nature's warning that your skin needs care. An oily skin is prone to all the surface disturbances of an unattractive countenance. It magnetizes dust and dirt and all the extraneous waste particles in the air.

While an oily skin can be kept under control, it takes a much longer and more extended care to control enlarged pores and blackheads. So, before these signs are evident, use a herbal tincture that will not only wake up your skin but clean it out and invigorate it.

SMOOTH, SOFT SKIN

You'll feel a tingling sensation as you pat it over your face and neck. Then you'll know the oiliness is being sopped out of your complexion, eventually to become a smooth and soft expanse of normal cleanliness.

After cleansing the skin, take a cotton pad saturated with this green-colored herbal tincture—an unusual type of liquid cosmetic . . . and pat briskly, giving particular attention to the nose and chin areas, where constant shine is present and where oiliness is most obvious. Your skin will take on a new glow and then it will feel refreshed and revived.

We also recommend a special-type vegetable cream which clarifies the skin and is a delightful protective finishing cream, especially created for skins heavier in texture, with a tendency to oiliness.

For the name of this unusual herbal tincture and cucumber cream for oily skin, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBERTY 4000, or write to Ruth Mugglebee, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Monday, Sept. 22, 1947

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY look for a very pleasant surprise the first two weeks of October. That is what the stars promise for persons born on this fortunate date. Don't make the mistake of discouraging new friendships. You need the stimulation which they will give you.

Good Manners

Don't ever stoop so low as to go to see a friend just to find out as many details as possible about her broken engagement, or about some other personal or family problematic situation. A sympathetic wish to be of help is always welcome, but a morbid inclination to snoop, is a despicable trait.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

IT IS BEST to ask whether two people have met, if you are not sure.

GORGEOUS RITA HAYWORTH, Columbia star, doesn't have to worry about poor complexion and enlarged pores. That's because a STAR realizes the importance of a lovely complexion. An unusual herbal tincture and cucumber cream is what you need to correct an oily skin.

'Going Steady' Too Young

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am 17 and have been going steady with a fellow of the same age for over a year. We get along very well and have been very faithful to each other. I haven't been out with any other fellows since we started going steady.

Sometimes, though, I feel as though I would like to go out with somebody else. I have met another boy I think I like, but how can I find out whether I do or not if I don't go out with him? Would it be definitely wrong for me to go out with him while I am going with someone else? "CONFUSED."

DEAR "CONFUSED":

Since you and this boy have been concentrating on each other exclusively for more than a year, it would hardly be fair for you to start going out with someone else and keep on going with the first boy without telling him you intended to do so. It would neither be fair nor quite honest, if you were letting your "steady" boy friend still believe he was the only young man in your life.

I have always thought, however, that it was a mistake for any girls and boys as young as you two to devote yourselves exclusively to one person and give up all your other friends. It is rarely possible for teen-agers to know their own minds so definitely that they can pick out their permanent mates, as you are now finding out. My advice to you is to be perfectly frank with your boy friend and tell him you feel it would be a good thing for you both to see more of other people.

Unexpected Guests

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: We have just rented a cottage at the seashore, for these last weeks of the summer, and I am perplexed by the problem of unexpected callers. When an unexpected caller (or a group of them) arrives just as we are planning to go out, should we stay at home, or leave after explaining that we had planned to go out?

MARCIA. Callers who drop in unexpectedly should, naturally, be prepared to adapt themselves to whatever circumstances they find. They are guests by chance, and they should graciously and understandingly accept this chance. If you and your family are about to leave when the callers arrive, you needn't, and shouldn't, hesitate to explain your plan.

As in all other circumstances that may be awkward, there are gracious ways of doing this explaining. For example, you may say, "It was so nice to have you drop in, and I do wish we could ask you to stay. But we are just about to leave for Jim's sister's house, and she is expecting us to arrive at 5 o'clock. Do let us know when you can come again . . . and please do make it soon." (That "let us know" is a practical hint for drop-iners!)

Baked Beans Tops Among Nutritious Main Dishes

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

"TRADITIONAL GOODNESS" is descriptive of baked beans. They are practical to serve for a meal of sheer goodness in quality and flavor. Today's emphasis is on economical and nutritious meals, and baked beans adequately meet both of these requirements.

Canned baked beans are the favorite of many when heated and served as they are, for the long, careful baking done by the canner imparts excellence of flavor. And, by the way, if you haven't tried canned brown bread, you should.

In adding ingredients to baked beans it is important that the flavors blend, for the deep rich flavor of the baked beans should not be overshadowed, but rather enhanced by such additions. We have three such recipes for you today. They are simple, easy-to-do favorites and most important, they are easy on the food budget.

BAKED BEAN SUPPER

Baked Beans with Deviled Eggs
Green Salad or Coleslaw
Brown Bread Butter or Margarine
Milk
Cold Custard and Fruit
Coffee

BAKED BEANS WITH DEVILED EGGS

2 1-lb. cans baked beans
1 sweet pickle, or tiny pickled onions
6 deviled eggs
Empty beans into a baking dish. Press the deviled eggs into the beans. Garnish with pickle strips. Cover, and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 1 hour. Makes 6 servings.

DEVILED EGGS

6 hard-cooked eggs
5 tbsp. mayonnaise
2 tsp. finely minced onion
¼ tsp. dry mustard
¼ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
2 tbsp. finely minced pickles and olives
½ tsp. salt
Cut hard-cooked eggs in halves lengthwise. Remove the yolks and force through sieve. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Add more mayonnaise if needed. Re-fill whites with yolk mixture. Sprinkle with paprika if desired. Makes 6 deviled eggs.

COLE SLAW WITH CARROTS

1 No. 2 can diced carrots
3 cups shredded cabbage
¼ cup grated onion (optional)
¼ cup boiled dressing, or sour cream dressing
Salt to taste
¼ tsp. paprika
Drain the chilled carrots (save the liquid for soup or sauce) and combine with the remaining ingredients. Sprinkle top with paprika. Makes 10 servings.

BEANS WITH SAUSAGE AND RELISH SAUCE

1 1-lb. can baked beans
1 4-oz. can Vienna sausage
½ cup mayonnaise
1 tbsp. chopped onion
1 tbsp. chopped pickle
1 tsp. chopped parsley
Empty beans into a shallow baking dish. Arrange sausages on top. Combine remaining ingredients and spread over the top. Bake, uncovered, in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 30 minutes. Makes 3 servings.

BEANS WITH BACON

2 1-lb. cans baked beans
1 small onion
1 tsp. prepared mustard
6 Strips crisp bacon
Combine beans, chopped onion and mustard. Put in baking dish and bake covered in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 1 hour. Serve with strip of crisp bacon on top each serving. Makes 6 servings.

SERVE BAKED BEANS for quick, hearty and thrifty main dishes.

"I wuz thinkin'..."

by IZZY ORT

Jest yesterday I wuz listenin' to a customer moan about the high cost of livin' an' I began ta wonder where is them special 15c breakfasts the restaurants ups feature years ago. Nowadays, the glass of water an' the tooth pick costs that much! It's jest like the old song; the rich is gettin' richer an' the poor is gettin' children an' I'm gettin' older. Right now, I'm envyin' my pal, Joe Linsey, who's postcarded me from Paris ta say he's fallen in love wid the Rivalier Well, eggs may be one buck a dozen an' butter one simoleon a pound wid the grocer's thumb hangin' neatly on the back side of the scale but down in my Grille, the rondoeevoo of the Sout' End sophisticates, a dime still gets a substantial glass of suds an' this means that your pocket-book kin live an' breathe here in a pure, before-de-war atmosphere! Two bits of news about my palace of pleasure dis week has ta do wid the return of Larry Randall ta the Grille. Larry's got more wit than a hound dog has fleas an' he's got the "new look" the fashion experts is talkin' about. The El Tropic Room upstairs, has got a transfusion an is now as lively as a family picnic wid the famous Joe Nevils an' a quartet of hot musicians churnin' away fer dancin' an' general enjoyment. Yessir, one buck may get you nuttin' at the grocer's dese days but it will get you the time of your life at the town's gayest, gay afternoon an' night spot, Ort's Grille, 25 Essex St., Boston. Smart Set Leaguers Active

By BETTY ALDEN

THE JUNIOR LEAGUE'S fall season is getting off to a flying start. Now that members are returning from seashore and mountains committees are being organized and plans discussed for a busy winter program.

One of the most active departments in the early season is Joy Kimball's placement department which places Junior League volunteers in social agencies throughout the city. Every active Junior League member is being interviewed to determine what type of community service she is best fitted for because each is required to do a certain amount of volunteer hospital or social agency work.

Joy Kimball's assistants in this work are Constance Learned, Patricia Spencer, Dorothy Rackemann, Mrs. Philip Theopold, Mrs. Fairfield Raymond, Mrs. Arthur Wellman, Mrs. John B. Reece and Katherine Newbold.

Mrs. Edward L. Bond, chairman of the education committee, is arranging meetings throughout the year to interest the entire membership. Speakers will be invited to discuss currently important subjects.

This committee will also help the placement department plan the 1948 provisional training course. Working with Mrs. Bond are Mrs. George Bemis, Mrs. Paul Withington, Mrs. Robert Hurlbut, Sally Foster, Mrs. Robert Terry, Mrs. Charles Eaton and Joy Kimball.

Mrs. C. Campbell Patterson, who has moved to her new house in Chestnut Hill after several seasons at Marion, will again be active in Junior League affairs. She is to head the arts department.

Mrs. A. Nathaniel Pierce is in charge of the house committee and others giving much of their time to working out the league program are Ruth Brewer, president; Mrs. Foster Burnham, Mrs. Wallace Lincoln Pierce, Virginia Wright, Mrs. Richard Devens, Mrs. Robert Strange and Mrs. Lyon Weyburn.

MRS. RALPH D. BOOTH, president of the Boston Y. W. C. A., will preside at the first fall meeting of the board of directors tomorrow at 140 Clarendon st. She will be assisted by Mrs. Arthur Perry, Mrs. Kenneth S. Thompson and Mrs. Alexander Macomber. A get-acquainted luncheon for members of the staff and board takes place in the library and there will be open house activities in the afternoon. Hostesses include Mrs. William E. Austill, Mrs. Walter H. Bieringer, Mrs. Richard A. Ehrlich, Mrs. James C. Foss, Mrs. Percival Gilbert, Mrs. Alexander Macomber, Mrs. Joseph S. Mitchell, Mrs. W. Frederick Mittendorf, Mrs. Ralph W. Morrill, Mrs. Alan R. Morse, Miss M. Louise Walworth and Mrs. Harry O. Williams.

WHEELLOCK COLLEGE freshmen will register tomorrow, upperclassmen Wednesday, preceding opening of classes in practical and fine arts Thursday at the remodelled Studio Building, 132 Riverway, Dr. Winifred E. Han, president, will address students at a morning assembly opening day.

Cardinal Says Church Must Fight to Split Wealth

MILAN, Sept. 22 (INS)—Alfredo Cardinal Schuster of Milan told a mass meeting of 125,000 Catholic workers that the church must join the people's struggle against "capitalistic excesses and for a more equitable distribution of world riches."

He said the church had to take this action "in view of the post-war evolution in which sovereigns and political cliques no longer decide the fate of peoples, but the peoples themselves engage in the struggle for a more just distribution of wealth."

Hit by Bus, Former

Medford Policeman, Dies

BILLERICA, Sept. 22—Frank W. Woods, a former Medford police officer was killed early today when he was struck by a northbound Boston & Maine bus while walking on the state highway.

Police Chief William O'Brien said the operator of the bus was Edward F. Buck of Manchester, N. H. The vehicle was carrying more than 30 passengers, O'Brien added.

Fear Kidnaping Of Ohio Schoolgirl

MARION, O., Sept. 22 (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Ed Fink said a futile hunt for Roxie Ann Green, 16, missing from her home at nearby Prospect since Friday night led him to believe the pretty high school sophomore had been kidnaped.

A search by 300 persons in the fields surrounding the rural home of the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Green, failed to disclose any new clues. The girl was last seen about 7:30 p. m. Friday walking home from a football game.

The deputy sheriff, who said the girl had been traced within a mile of her home, declared it appeared to him she had been abducted and forcibly placed in an automobile.

Harry Carey, Cowboy Film Hero, Dies at 69

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 22 (AP)—Harry Carey, 69, veteran motion picture actor and cowboy hero of the silent screen, died at his home in suburban Brentwood. Cause of death was given as a blood clot in the heart, following a weakened lung and heart condition from a recent illness.

The veteran of more than 300 movies roles, was born in New York city and gained popularity as a hard-hitting cowboy star in the early days of the motion picture industry, although never west of the Hudson river until Hollywood beckoned in 1910.

TWU Set to Demand Wage Raise in South

ATLANTA, Sept. 22 (AP)—Southern mill operators today had notice that the Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, wants a 15 cents per hour general wage boost.

The demand was served yesterday at a meeting of delegates from 190 mills who claim to represent some 125,000 CIO textile workers in the South.

Florida Editor, Native Of North Adams, Dead

BRADENTON, Fla., Sept. 22 (AP)—Robert William Bentley, 69, veteran Florida newspaperman and since 1937 editor and general manager of the Bradenton Herald, died of a heart attack at his home here.

He came to Florida at the age of 11 with his parents from North Adams, Mass., and started work as a printer's apprentice in Ocala at the age of 14.

Slight Imperfection

By George McManus

YOU KNOW - I WOULDN'T THINK OF GOING OUT IF YOU JUST LET ME GO OUT ONCE IN A WHILE?

SHUT UP! SAUCE WHEN DID YOU GET THE IDEA THAT YOU COULD THINK??

DID YOU RING - MUM?

YES - FAULTER - CALL UP MRS. MARY ANN DE VORSE - I WANT TO TALK TO HER!

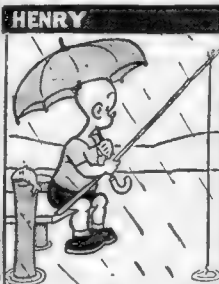

YOU HEARD ME - I'VE INVITED THEM OVER TO DINNER - I WANT YOU TO SEE THIS IDEAL COUPLE - AN EXAMPLE OF A PERFECT MARRIAGE!

THIS - I'D LIKE TO SEE -

MRS. DE VORSE IS IN RENO TO GET A DIVORCE - AND MR. DE VORSE IS IN A HOSPITAL TO GET A FEW STITCHES PUT IN HIS HEAD.

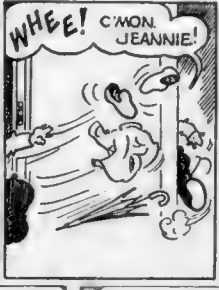

GOT ANY OTHER EXAMPLES?

All Baseball Pays Tribute To Duffy Lewis

By JACK CONWAY

Duffy Lewis

Duffy Lewis, who will be honored by leaders in baseball and by the fans at the Statler Hotel tonight, was one of the greatest clutch hitters baseball has known. As a member of the Red Sox, Yanks and Senators, Duffy got most of his hits when the big chips were down.

Lewis starred in a baseball period when few players were paid large salaries. Duffy met this writer when we arrived at the Red Sox training camp at Hot Springs, Ark., back in the days of the Federal League.

"Is it true?" asked Duffy, "that Joe Lannin has signed Tris Speaker for $15,000 a year to prevent him from going with the Feds?"

"Yes," I replied, "I was in New York when the contract was signed."

"Speaker will have to split the $15,000 with Hooper and myself or cover the whole outfield himself," declared Lewis laughingly.

It is unlikely that either Lewis or Hooper, both of whom will attend tonight's dinner, were receiving more than $6500 a year at the time.

Lewis, Speaker and Hooper, generally regarded as the greatest outfield of all time, did not receive half as much in total salaries as Ted Williams gets today. Williams is paid $70,000 a year. One might also add that the huge federal income tax takes a large portion of Williams' earnings. The old time stars did not have to concern themselves with such things until the First World War.

Lannin broke up the famous Lewis, Speaker, Hooper combination when he sold Tris to Cleveland for $50,000. A player of Speaker's ability today would bring $250,000 in the baseball market.

Lewis Had Mighty Throwing Arm

Lewis has received much publicity over the years for his ability to climb Duffy's Cliff in the old left field at Fenway Park and pull down fly balls. Duffy could find his way along the Cliff with the sureness of a mountain goat.

Few outfielders could throw as long, fast and as accurate a ball as Lewis. Base runners usually met with grief when they tried to take chances with Duffy's arm.

Speaker was a showman in the outfield. He liked to play a short center field, and he could go back after a ball better than any outfielder who ever played for a Boston club.

When in Boston for the World's Series last fall, Speaker told Dick Sears and this writer that Dom DiMaggio was the best outfielder in baseball today. Dom, like Speaker, at his best, is a daring ball hawk, and covers a great deal of ground in the outfield.

Hooper was the perfect outfielder. He was not spectacular like Speaker, but he usually managed to get where the ball was hit.

Like many other Red Sox greats, Lewis later became a member of the Yanks, and then ended his days as an active player with the Senators.

The Braves were fortunate in securing Lewis as traveling secretary. Duffy has proved one of the most efficient secretaries in baseball. In recent years Duffy has aided hundreds of persons in solving their transportation problems. This has been especially true in going to Florida and returning North.

Last spring this writer required railroad transportation from Florida when it was impossible for me to obtain it, and so we asked Joe Cashman and Bill Grimes to take the matter up with Duffy. We were soon on our way North in a drawing room.

Duffy is being honored tonight more on account of his fine character and ability to make and keep friends than because he was a brilliant ball player. Most of the people who will gather at the Statler Hotel have at some time received some special act of kindness from Lewis.

Eddie Collins, general manager of the Red Sox, will make his first public appearance of the season to pay tribute to Duffy. Eddie played second base for the Athletics at the time Lewis was knocking out base hits for the Red Sox. Eddie's health is much improved and he will derive pleasure out of meeting Lewis, Speaker, Hooper and other stars of his own baseball period.

Mutual Help Feel Effects Of Racing Conflict

The mutual clerks at Narragansett are among the first to be hit by the racing conflict with Rockingham Park. It is planned to stagger the mutual staff with each man taking a day off during the week. With less wagering, there is not need for as many mutual clerks at Narragansett Park. Rockingham Park is also using fewer mutual clerks.

The combined weekday mutual handicaps at the two tracks would produce a fine business for either of them, but when the cash is split up between two associations there is little cheer for the operators of the tracks. Two racing shows also confuse the public and eventually will reduce interest in the turf sport.

The rival race track management realize they are following a dead end street under present conditions, and there is already talk that a 1948 date program will be arranged that will ban conflicts. Horsemen with vision heed the warning of Chairman Harry Allen of the Massachusetts Racing Commission that conflicts, if continued, will result in $8000 purses. Race tracks do not make a practice of dipping into their reserves to make things comfortable for the horsemen.

The history of racing has been that the tracks have reduced purses when the mutual handle has dropped.

There are almost 400 days of horse racing and 200 nights of dog racing between Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire. No community can absorb that much racing for a long period. It is better to have fewer days of racing, and avoid conflicts.

Coach Leahy's First Article Discounts Irish Greatness

Frank Leahy, Notre Dame head football coach and former Boston College mentor, today joins the Boston Evening American staff. His articles will appear three times a week, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, throughout the football season.

Today the Notre Dame mentor, generally acclaimed the successor to Knute Rockne as the nation's outstanding moulder of gridiron teams, sizes up the chances of his own famed Fighting Irish as they launch the season on which marks their final game with Southern California.

By FRANK LEAHY

"Notre Dame is the machine most likely to go through undefeated and united. It is doubtful any team ever went into a normal, as distinguished from a wartime, season recognized so universally as a team without a weakness."

"The Irish fear no opponent. Their coaches fear only incapacitating injuries to key players and the possibility these veterans may soften under the praise that they are as good as any men who ever wore the Blue and Gold."

"Barring something like an injury to Lujack, Notre Dame has an excellent opportunity to establish itself (not only as champion) but as the greatest team in football history."

My friends, those Shakespeares of the sports pages, really teed off with the adjectives in describing their opinion of our chances this year at Notre Dame. Such lifting and lyrical phrases, such wonderful material for a scrapbook... I only wish they were true.

Unfortunately we have to play out the schedule or break up the game. We wouldn't want to do that. Not with so many worthy opponents, many of whom, in my opinion, are ready, willing and able to trim us down to juvenile size unless we get all the breaks.

Anyway, I want to assure our loyal fans that I intend to show up at our first game in Pittsburgh on Oct. 4 with a pigskin and not a scrapbook. After Pitt we face such recalcitrant and unbelieving neighbors as Purdue, Nebraska, Iowa, Navy, Army (now where have I heard that name before?), Northwestern, Tulane and Southern California.

Those boys are tough, too. They play for keeps. They may have read our write-ups, but you can bet they are too downright stubborn to believe them.

It is the toughest job I have ever faced. And I might add, this isn't a crying towel on my shoulder, either. It is a piece of bait used to wipe away beads of doubt and fear induced by all those "out-of-this-world" preseason predictions hanging like a mocking albatross around our collective gridiron necks at Notre Dame.

But, don't get me wrong. It is true we have fine material. Maybe great, as the sports scribes insist. I am not selling my boys short. They were good last year, their unbeaten record proves that.

But so were the Red Sox and Cardinals in baseball. Especially the Cardinals, who were the glamor boys of spring training. They were going to chase the rest of the National League. Brooklyn included, right over the center field fence, according to stories flashing back from the grapefruit circuit. I don't have to tell you sports fans where the Cards are now. And I have too many good friends in Boston to mention the Red Sox.

Neither am I setting up an alibi, just in case. I think I can take reverses with as good grace as the next man. But I do think my boys should be judged on the field, not in a mythical land of what may be wishful dreams.

Since I am getting personal thoughts of my chest before trying my hands at predictions and after-game comment in articles to come, I'd like to point out some obvious facts about this year's Notre Dame squad.

Barring injuries or over-confidence, we are solid up front. Flanked by Leon Hart and Jim Martin at end, George Connor and Ziggy Czaroski at tackle, Moose Fischer and Sig Signaigo at guard and George Strohmeyer at center no one will run over our line without being asked some rude questions. And I must admit I have other good boys to spell these sturdy lads.

Johnny Lujack is all any coach could ask at quarterback. Due to the fact we lost George Ratterman to the pros, however, Lujack can be used, or risked, only on offense. And Johnny is one of the greatest defensive backs I have ever seen. An injury robbed us of Ernie Zaleski. Ernie was that explosive, break-away, roaming-in-the-gloom type back who cashes in with those long, scoring runs.

Honestly, I can't see another breakaway, long-distance-ating runner in sight. Now if only I had a Buddy Young. Then maybe I might make some of our fanciful write ups come true.

A coach can dream, can't he? The next article by Coach Leahy will appear in the Boston Evening American next Wednesday.

All Baseball Pays Tribute To Duffy Lewis

By JACK CONWAY

Duffy Lewis

Duffy Lewis, who will be honored by leaders in baseball and by the fans at the Statler Hotel tonight, was one of the greatest clutch hitters baseball has known. As a member of the Red Sox, Yanks and Senators, Duffy got most of his hits when the big chips were down.

Lewis starred in a baseball period when few players were paid large salaries. Duffy met this writer when we arrived at the Red Sox training camp at Hot Springs, Ark., back in the days of the Federal League.

"Is it true?" asked Duffy, "that Joe Lannin has signed Tris Speaker for $15,000 a year to prevent him from going with the Feds?"

"Yes," I replied, "I was in New York when the contract was signed."

"Speaker will have to split the $15,000 with Hooper and myself or cover the whole outfield himself," declared Lewis laughingly.

It is unlikely that either Lewis or Hooper, both of whom will attend tonight's dinner, were receiving more than $6500 a year at the time.

Lewis, Speaker and Hooper, generally regarded as the greatest outfield of all time, did not receive half as much in total salaries as Ted Williams gets today. Williams is paid $70,000 a year. One might also add that the huge federal income tax takes a large portion of Williams' earnings. The old time stars did not have to concern themselves with such things until the First World War.

Lannin broke up the famous Lewis, Speaker, Hooper combination when he sold Tris to Cleveland for $50,000. A player of Speaker's ability today would bring $250,000 in the baseball market.

Lewis Had Mighty Throwing Arm

Lewis has received much publicity over the years for his ability to climb Duffy's Cliff in the old left field at Fenway Park and pull down fly balls. Duffy could find his way along the Cliff with the sureness of a mountain goat.

Few outfielders could throw as long, fast and as accurately as Lewis. Base runners usually met with grief when they tried to take chances with Duffy's arm.

44 Dodgers Lucky Braves Out of NL Flag Race

By HUCK FINNEGAN

All up for the Duffy Lewis dinner at the Statler tonight. After you've given a hand to the Braves' popular secretary and his old outfield mates, Tris Speaker and Harry Hooper, give a hand to Billy Southworth and his Boston Braves.

Entering St. Louis with a 3-6 record in the West, the Braves proceeded to take two games from the world champions, then came East to sweep two from the Dodgers, heirs apparent to the throne.

Duffy Lewis & Co. are happy today but there is no joy in Brooklyn. The mighty Dodgers had struck out twice (8-1 and 4-0) before Sain and Spahn, the first brace of 20-game winners the Braves have had since Jim Turner and Lou Fette in '37.

More, Spahn is the first 20-game southpaw winner the Braves have had since Irving "Young Cy" Young in 1905.

The week-end in Brooklyn is something to remember. Dodgers were acclaimed wildly upon return from the West where they had won 7, lost only 3. Only one Brooklyn victory or one St. Louis defeat was needed to clinch the pennant.

Some 2000 fans waited hours at the station to hail the conquering heroes. They carried Reese on their shoulders while cameras clicked, and they paraded for hours singing "Go On Over Brooklyn" and the "Dodgers Song."

Jackie Robinson predicted, "We'll beat the Yankees." He said he'd put his World Series money in the bank. Press releases from the Dodgers showed how the Braves had figured in three previous Brooklyn's pennant clinchings. The race was over, or so they thought.

Faithful to the number of 29,762 were at Saturday's game, anticipating the pennant clinching and the post-game celebration. But Sain hog-tied 'em on six hits to win his 20th game for his second successive year. At night the Cards won.

"We'll celebrate tomorrow," they agreed, and 34,123 Sunday patrons turned out to whoop-de-do. Why not? Wasn't 21-game winner Ralph Branca going to pitch? Wasn't Spahn going to oppose him with two days' rest? Yeh, this was it. No contest. Or so they thought. Banners were flying. Bands were tooting.

So chesty were one and all that when catcher Bruce Edwards was given his Buick before the game, this notice was sent to the New York Brooklyn press:

"A pennant victory dinner with Bruce Edwards as host and most of the Dodge team attending will be held at Gondola restaurant, in downtown Brooklyn (20 Lafayette ave. across from Academy of Music) Sunday evening, Sept. 21, at 7:30 p. m.

That was last night. Braves had to race for the train so there wasn't a chance to attend, but there couldn't have been much hilarity because Spahn, like Sain, held them to six hits; blanked them 4-0 and left 12 Brooks on bases.

To top it all, Edwards left the game in the seventh inning with an injured finger after two double steals were made at his expense, in that same frame.

The Dodgers acted like the '46 Red Sox, who, needing one win to clinch the flag, dropped six in a row to second division clubs. Dodgers got no help from the Cubs either because the Cubs-Cards game was rained out.

Maybe the moon shone over Brooklyn last night, but no pennant was flying. Maybe they've learned to hatch their chickens before starting to count 'em. If the Braves were a little closer they'd be counting out themselves.

Tris Speaker and Harry Hooper saw Spahn blank the Dodgers, then accompanied the Braves and Duffy Lewis to Boston. They held court in the drawing room, entertaining the younger generation of writers with exploits of the 1912-1915 Red Sox. . . . Said Harry Hooper: "I can't understand why that 1915 Red Sox team isn't ranked among the greatest of all time. It certainly deserves to be. It had everything."

Speaker, Hooper and Lewis were in the outfield; Hobitzel, Barry, Scott and Gardner in the infield; Mgr. Carriagan, Numa-maker, Thomas and Cady behind the plate; Foster, Shore, Ruth, Leonard and Mays the big five pitchers.

"Connie Mack once told me the only reason it isn't listed generally among the greats is that it didn't stick together long enough. Maybe he's right. But that wasn't our fault."

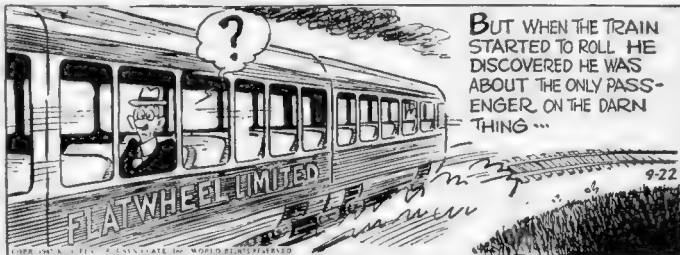

Joe Lannin sold Speaker on the eve of the 1916 opener because he had been a holdout. Yet that club was so strong it won without Speaker, flag and series. A few years later Frazee wrecked the club, selling all the headliners to the Yankees and laying the groundwork of their future greatness but starting a 20-year drought in Boston.

"It was a pity," said Speaker. "It was a young team. Every man on that '15 outfit played at least six more years of major league ball, some of them 10, pitchers included. No telling how many pennants it could have won if it had been kept together."

Those old ballplayers had pride in their craft. In '14, the Federal League offered bonuses to all and sundry if they'd jump but the Speaker-Lewis-Hooper club was so anxious to win pennants not one of them nibbled at the alluring bait. Thus they were broken-hearted when Spahn was peddled and Lannin sold the club to Frazee who wrecked it.

Amateur Show Urge Sportsmen to Clean Up Has Bearing On Olympics

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

Amateur bowlers from Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis will be joining the clever Hawaiian team here this week for a gala fight program to be staged at the Boston Garden Wednesday night in tests that experts predict might very well be a forecast of the make-up of the Olympic fight team next spring.

Heavyweight competition should reach the peak with such fighters as Pete Fuller, Harvard U. National AAU champion Willie Clemmons of Indianapolis, Willich Champion from Cleveland, and John Contrades, Hawaii.

Meanwhile, Jackie Wilson, Quincy lightweight, along with Fuller, will carry the big hopes of the New England club, Wilson, reaching a point now where the pro managers are asking him to turn to the money ranks, is regarded as one of the most promising local fighters in recent years. He's slated for the 133's but there's still a possibility that he'll weigh in for the welterweight division by ring time.

Other NE representatives will be Frank Collins, Roxbury flyweight; Alex Tsakaris, U. S. Navy light heavyweight; John Griffin, Lawrence, in the flyweights; Pete Newell, Salem, in the featherweights; Dick Callahan, Roxbury, in the welterweights and Dick Galvin, Roxbury, in the middleweights.

Because of the number of matches (32 boxers will be entered in the eight classes) the show will get under way at 7:30 p. m.

Syracuse Still Leads Despite 9-5 Setback

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—Trailing 5-0 through the first four innings, the Buffalo Bisons came roaring back with nine runs in the next four frames to whip the Syracuse Chiefs, 9-5, in the fifth game of the International League's final playoff. It made the best of seven series, 3-2, in Syracuse's favor and sent the teams back to Syracuse to wind up the series.

Veteran Clem Hausmann gained credit for his second victory of the series with the help of a neat relief stint by southpaw Ted Gray.

At a recent meeting of the Worcester County League of Sportsmen's Clubs, held at the home of the Leominster Sportsmen's Ass'n, many items of interest to anglers and gunners were discussed. It was brought out that because the organized sportsmen had failed to co-operate, no action had been taken on Senate 76, or other bills, for improving fish and game administration. Members agreed that we still have the same "hopelessly weak conducting of fish and game matters that have existed for the past 15 years."

Those fishing the vast Quabbin Reservoir were again urged to dispose and clean up their refuse, for it is possible that the State Board of Health may recommend closing this angling area.

It was unanimously voted to advise Director James Power, of the Fisheries and Game Div., that the duck season should coincide with the bird shooting period; that the league approves of the division's program of co-operative trapping of rabbits from closed areas, and later liberating them in open terrain; and that information regarding young pheasants or bearded should have been sent directly to clubs for prompt action. . . . These suggestions have since been received by the division.

A letter from the South Barre club asked why the Ware river is posted above the covered bridge, plus its tributary streams. The league has requested M.P.C. Comm. Monmssey to open these areas for hunting and fishing without permit or fee, in order that the State may stock the waters.

At this gathering, it was also reported that the following State laws are now in effect: free licenses to hospitalized veterans;

no hunting from airplanes; hunting permitted on State lands; pulchrum bill—suppliers furnish clean bill of health on pheasants and quail.

The 200 Club staged its annual Veterans' Day last Sunday, with all profits going to aid disabled vets. . . . Annual Field Day of the Auburn club will be held next Sunday.

From the above reports, it can be seen that the Worcester County league, in addition to other Leagues and rod and gun outfits, is doing fine work, both in the interests of conservation and the sportsmen.

Myers Has Work Cut Out To Get Ready for Clemson

It was evident after Saturday's scrimmage against Harvard that Denny Myers has a lot of work to do with his Boston College charges in preparation for their opening game against the Clemson Tigers at Braves Field Friday night.

In the first Harvard scrimmage the Eagle line was nearly impregnable but such was not the case last Saturday. Crimson bull carriers were breaking through the B. C. forward wall for sizable gains and the lack of practice showed up clearly.

Myers had little time with his linemen last week since class schedules prevented them from being on Alumni Field in time for practice. Many of the candidates only went through a half-hour drill. Every effort is being made to rearrange the athletes' class programs so that they can go through the full two-hour drill.

The B. C. mentor realizes that Clemson will be a tough opponent to down in his opening tilt. The Tigers ran roughshod over Presbyterian in their opener last week. The twin sessions with Harvard have helped a great deal. In the first scrimmage B. C. was weak on passing defense. Myers stressed this point during the week with the result that the Eagles were a vastly improved outfit in that department last Saturday. When the movies of the second scrimmage are available the various misplays will be pointed out with the hope that they can be corrected before the opener.

Several B. C. players were very impressive in Saturday's workout. Fullback Ed Songin ripped off several lengthy runs and his line smashes were something to see as he battered his way through the Crimson defenses.

Left end Art Spinney, a sophomore from Saugus, consistently charged into the Harvard backfield to break up running plays by piling up blockers. In addition, he snagged a few passes for B. C. gains.

Little Kenny Hughes took over the signal-calling slot when Ed Clabby had to retire after a Crimson player stepped on his foot. Hughes, a 19-year-old sophomore from Patchogue, N. Y., turned in a creditable performance. His ball handling was adequate and he clicked with several passes, completing passes to ends Stan Good and Albie Gould.

A 160 pounder, Hughes appeared more effective than Steve Stuka and may win the job as Clabby's understudy.

For the second straight week Joe Diminick played well. Although he didn't pull off the lengthy runs of the previous week he piled up considerable yardage and was on the receiving end of a Clabby pass which was labeled TD.

3 Springfield Keymen On Injured List

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 22 (INS)—Injuries to his major players were giving Springfield Coach Ossie Solem plenty of worry today. Veteran tackle Ed Gully, fullback Seeley Romaine and Co-Capt. and right halfback Fern Teirau all have leg or ankle trouble.

READY FOR OPENER

NORTHFIELD, Vt., Sept. 22 (INS)—The Norwich eleven polished plays today following a scrimmage against the reserves of Dartmouth at Hanover, N. H. The Cadets open against Lowell Textile Saturday.

Now Burt Shotton Has Very Severe Headache

Mgr. Bucky Harris, whose New York Yankees already are in the World Series, and Burt Shotton, pilot of a Brooklyn Dodger team still striving to get in, pondered pitching problems today with Shotton's cares the more serious of the two, says the Associated Press.

Harris, who until recently was gnawing his fingernails because of the inability of any members of his pitching staff to go the route, has been getting such splendid mound performances since the Yankees' clinching date that he can't make up his mind who he'll start in the fall classic.

On the other hand, Shotton, who beamed all over the bench as the Brooklyn hurler corps swept past nearly everything in sight in the Dodgers' recent Western swing, can't find a starter to pitch that pennant "clincher," let alone to open the big series.

For the fourth straight day, a Yankee hurler went the route yesterday when Floyd (Bill) Bevens scattered three hits in pitching a 6-0 victory over the Athletics in Philadelphia. Bevens, who hadn't been counted upon very much by Harris, thus served notice that he was out to win a World Series starting assignment.

On the previous day, Bobo New-some, a leading candidate for the opening assignment, dropped a 3-2 decision to the A's, but allowed only nine hits in going the distance. The day before, Frank Shea showed a definite return to his early season form by pitching a four-hit 3-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox. That game came on the heels of a seven-hit shutout performance by Alie Reynolds, the Yankees' biggest winner. Shea showed a definite return to his early season form by pitching a four-hit 3-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox. That game came on the heels of a seven-hit shutout performance by Alie Reynolds, the Yankees' biggest winner.

The Yankees backed up Bevens' alright pitching with a four-run attack on Joe Coleman in the fifth inning and hopped on relief hurler Russ Christopher for two more tallies before 18,333 which raised the Philadelphia season attendance to a record 911,566.

The Brooks, who saw a starting pitcher fail to go the route for the fourth day in a row, failed for the third straight time to sew up the flag. They still need one more victory or a defeat by the St. Louis Cardinals to become official opponents of the Yankees in the series. The Brooks have six games to play and the Cards, who meet the Chicago Cubs in a day-night doubleheader in St. Louis today, have nine.

Larry Jansen, rookie right-hander of the New York Giants, joined Spahn, Sain, Branca and Ewell Blackwell of Cincinnati in the 20-victory class when he pitched the Giants to a 6-4 triumph over the Philadelphia Phils at the Polo grounds. The win gave the Giants a split in their double header as the Phils won the opener 3-2 in 11 innings.

Del Ennis homered to break up the first game. It was his 13th. Charley Gilbert had accounted for the winners' first two runs with a two-run homer. Both Giants' runs came as a result of four batters. Jack Lake hit his 11th and Sid Gordon hit his 13th.

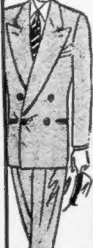

Rookie second baseman Bobby Rhawn slammed his first round tripper in the second game to enable the Giants to establish National League record by hitting homers in 18 consecutive games. They held the old one of 16 straight games. The Yankees hold the major league record of 25.

Cincinnati and Pittsburgh split a twin bill, the Reds winning the first 3-1 and the Pirates taking the nightcap 11-7. The second game was halted because of darkness at the end of eight innings. Blackwell gave up five hits in registering his 22d win.

The scheduled games between St. Louis and Chicago and Cleveland and Detroit in the American League as well as St. Louis and Chicago in the National League, were postponed by rain. The Indians and Tigers had managed to play three innings before the rains came. Joe Gordon, who had hit his 30th home run off Detroit's Hal Newhouser, to tie Boston's Ted Williams, for the home run leadership, thus was deprived of a circuit clout.

Arthritis Pain Formula Created by California Doctor

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.—Most people who have suffered from stabbing, throbbing, muscular aches and pains due to Arthritis, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuritis, Lumbago and Neuralgia can't know what joy and comfort may be in store for them until they try Romind, which is the formula of a physician with 25 years' experience. Romind has now been released to all good drug stores in the U. S. and Canada. Don't suffer another hour without getting Romind from your druggist. Take as directed after meals and bed-time. Let it show how fast it may help you and prove to be the very medicine you need. Money back guaranteed unless entirely satisfied.

Men Who Get Up Nights Often Lose Their Pep

If you have to get up 2 or more times a night, your rest is broken and you may feel old and run-down before your time. So if you Get Up Nights or suffer from Bladder Weakness, Painful Passages, Backache, Leg Pains, Nervousness, Rheumatic Pains, Cries Under Eyes, or Broken Aches, due to non-organic and non-systemic kidney and Bladder Trouble, you should try Cyslex. This is a great medicine, a doctor's formula, has helped thousands of sufferers for over 20 years. Usually the very first dose of Cyslex starts to work immediately to help you in three ways: 1. Helps nature remove irritating excess acids, poisonous wastes and certain germs. 2. This cleansing action helps nature alleviate many pains, aches, soreness and stiffness. 3. Helps reduce frequent night and day calls, thus promoting better sleep. Get Cyslex from your druggist today. Give it a fair trial as directed on package. Money back guaranteed unless Cyslex satisfies you.

Morning Coughs Often Due to Bronchial Asthma

Do you cough and cough, especially mornings and at night? At times do you feel like you were tearing yourself to pieces trying to get rid of strangling mucus and all you choke, rasp for breath, wheeze and often can't sleep? The cause of these devastating symptoms may be recurring attacks of Bronchial Asthma. In such cases, the very first dose of Mendeo, a physician's prescription, usually starts almost instantly to help relief that clogged up stuffy feeling in the bronchial tubes, then helps Nature loosen and remove thick, strangling phlegm. This helps you get good fresh air into your lungs and promotes restful sleep. Mendeo is not a smoke, injection or spray, but is a tasteless internal medicine which works thru the blood, thus reaching the bronchial tubes and lungs. Mendeo must satisfy in every way or your money back is guaranteed. Ask your druggist for Mendeo today, and take exactly as directed.

Heartburn

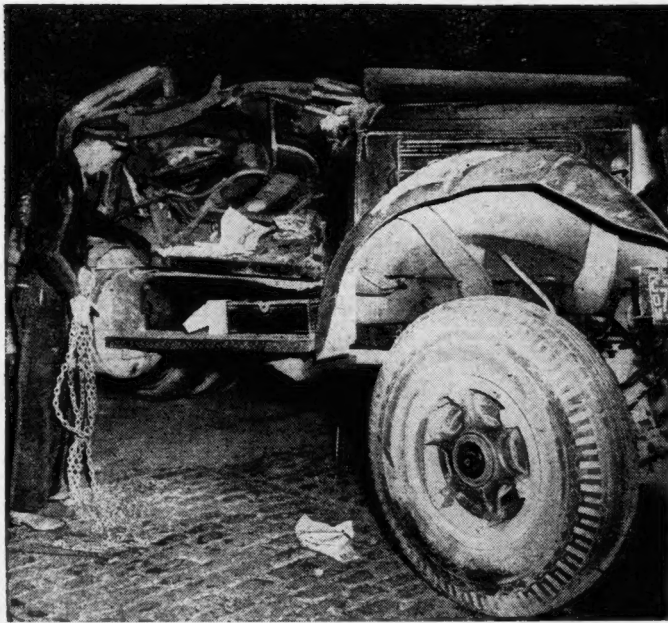

When excess stomach acid causes painful, suffocating heartburn, you need relief. Mendeo is the fastest-acting medicine known for heartburn. It is not a laxative. Mendeo brings comfort in a day or return blood to its normal balance.

Europe Asks U. S. for 19 Billions

Two Injured—This automobile tractor was completely demolished and the operator and his helper critically injured early today when it veered into an electric light pole on Broad st., Lynn, toppling the pole, then turning over four times. The operator, Stanley Pazik, 23, has been given four blood transfusions in effort to save his life. His stomach was punctured by a piece of steel. The other occupant, Ray Rosetti, 24, suffers from a fractured skull and jaw.

Salvage

Ed Madero, of Bay St. Louis, Miss., is joined by his pet dog, Buck, as he searches through debris of his hurricane-battered home for anything he might salvage. Hundreds of homes in that area were demolished as the storm swept over the Gulf Coast.

Disaster

Students from a Tokyo university string a rope across swirling flood waters of the Tone river, in that city, to rescue marooned family, after the river overflowed banks in wake of a seven-day rain. More than a half-million Tokyo residents were imperilled by the flood waters.
